HOUSEHOLDS IN GOD'S SERVICE

In the ancient world, "household" was a wide-reaching concept. When Joshua speaks of his household serving the Lord, he meant not just those who lived inside his walls or those related to him by blood or marriage; he meant slaves or servants and their families, and anyone indebted to him. Even his livestock and other possessions would be consecrated to service of God. In our world, we value allowing individuals their freedom to choose how they live, and wouldn't think of offering our pets to the service of God. But, as we discern our vocation as disciples baptized into Christ, we can come to realize how far-ranging the "households" of our lives still are: how we act toward our spouses, children, roommates or anyone we live with; our behavior with neighbors; or in public as we encounter many "strangers" every day in stores or traffic who suddenly are "next door" to us. How can we use our time, our resources, or gifts for selfless reasons rather than personal gain? No matter what life our witness to the Good News calls us to, we all have a "household" that must be consecrated to service of the Lord our God.

GROWING DISCIPLES

Welcome to this new column in our weekly bulletin! It is written by fellow parishioners with the hope that it will help you on your journey to grow as disciples of Jesus. In Greek, DISCIPLE means "a follower or apprentice of a master." To be Jesus' disciple, we are called to live like him, think like him, serve like him. Lets walk together and follow Jesus!

CREATION

We are not accidents or just random collections of molecules. Science shows us that the precision needed to organize the array of molecules to form our universe, including ourselves, points to a designer, an intelligence, a Creator, our awesome God.

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Anger, shock, grief, shame. What other words can we summon to describe the experience of learning about the devastating revelations of sexual abuse — and the failures of bishops to safeguard the children entrusted to their care — published in the Pennsylvania grand jury report, released Tuesday? This catalogue of horrors comes on the heels of news accounts of deeply disturbing sexual-abuse and harassment allegations against Archbishop Theodore McCarrick, who recently resigned from the College of Cardinals. And yet whatever words we may use to describe the anguish of reading about these heinous acts, they can never capture the reality of suffering endured by victims of sexual abuse, suffering compounded by the woeful responses of bishops who failed to protect the people they were ordained to serve. As the Holy See put it in its August 16 statement on the grand jury report: “The church must learn hard lessons from its past, and there should be accountability for both abusers and those who permitted abuse to occur.”

I know that many of you are asking: How could this be happening again? Didn't the U.S. bishops address this crisis sixteen years ago when they met in Dallas? What are they doing now, and why should we trust that this time they will do the right thing?

These are precisely the questions that ought to be asked. As a former chair of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops Committee for the Protection of Children and Young People, I have asked them myself. And sorrow, disgust, outrage — these are righteous feelings, the stirrings of the conscience of a people scandalized by the terrible reality that too many of the men who promised to protect their children, and strengthen their faith, have been responsible for wounding both.

We know this not only because of the admirable work of the many members of the news media who played an essential role in bringing this crisis into the light. Now, we have been made to face these scandals first and foremost by the courage of victim-survivors — the men and woman who found the strength, even when doing so meant suffering again unimaginable pain, to come forward and seek justice from an institution that grievously failed them.

What are we bishops doing now to ensure that those failures are not repeated? Today, USCCB President Cardinal Daniel DiNardo announced on behalf of all the bishops that our conference will launch a thorough investigation of the allegations against Archbishop McCarrick; that it will establish new ways in which people can report complaints against bishops; and that it will advocate for more effective resolution of such allegations. The USCCB will invite the Holy See to investigate the McCarrick case, in concert with a predominantly lay group of experts.

The bishops will also update our 2002 “Statement of Episcopal Commitment” by which the bishops pledged to follow a procedure for reporting allegations of sexual abuse of minors by a bishop.

This document needs revision to clarify how victims can report abuse of minors or other misconduct by bishops, as well as develop third-party reporting systems, many of which are already being looked at today. Of course, bishops are not exempt from following standards of behavior. Our own Cardinal Joseph Bernardin provided a strong example, when he chose to step aside after he was accused of abuse — a charge that was eventually retracted.

The USCCB will also press for procedures that will make it easier to resolve complaints against bishops in a timely, fair, and transparent manner.

As Cardinal DiNardo explained, all this will be conducted with “proper independence, sufficient authority, and substantial leadership by laity.” This call for lay oversight of the investigation, as much as the scandal itself, shows the need for systemic change in the way we order church life. The clericalist mindset, responsible for so much of the scandal, must be purged from church life. As Pope Francis has urged, we need to remember that it is our baptism that unites us. We as a church must reflect more deeply on what we share in common, rather than what distinguishes us.

The abuses contained in the Pennsylvania grand jury report are, as you know, appallingly familiar. And while it is true that the vast majority of abuses contained in that report occurred decades ago, that is of no comfort to victims, nor should it be to any of us. We cannot say this enough: the abuses should never have happened, and no one should have acted in ways that enabled them. This is why, following the 2002 wave of scandals, the USCCB adopted policies designed to protect young people from abusers. We instituted a zero-tolerance policy which holds that even one instance of child sexual abuse would bar someone from the priesthood forever. The Archdiocese of Chicago has implemented these policies and even done more.

1. We established an independent lay-majority review board to consider allegations against clergy and make recommendations to the bishops.

ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

Letter in response to Pennsylvania Grand Jury Report
August 17, 2018
Page Three

2. We refer all allegations of abuse to civil authorities.
3. We require diocesan employees and volunteers to undergo background checks.
4. We mandate that all diocesan employees and volunteers undergo safe-environment training to help them identify predatory behavior and understand avenues of reporting. And we required that children be taught how to recognize, resist and report abuse.
5. We undergo an annual audit to measure compliance with these policies, which every year has found the Archdiocese of Chicago compliant.

Since 2002, hundreds of thousands of our people in dioceses across the United States have undergone safe-environment training. In many ways we can say that the policies of the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People, which established procedures for addressing allegations of sexual abuse of minors by clergy, have been successful. According to the Pennsylvania grand jury report, for example, just two of the 300 priests named in the text were accused within the past decade, and both were reported to civil authorities. This excuses nothing, and we can never become complacent about our responsibility to protect children and adults from abuse and harassment, but it does say something about the effects of our post-2002 policies.

Here in the Archdiocese of Chicago, we have been following procedures that were first established by Cardinal Bernardin in 1992, following revelations of clergy abuse that came to light during that period. In addition to what the Charter calls for, we offer payment for counseling or other assistance to anyone who comes to us with allegations even before attempting to establish the credibility of the claim. After any civil investigation has concluded, we conduct our own inquiry into allegations against priests, and our majority-lay review board considers the case and makes a recommendation to me about whether the accused should remain in ministry. One of the most important things Cardinal Bernardin did was to establish a regular meeting of everyone who might be called in to consider a case of sexual abuse, whether it involves a minor or an adult. So, to this day, representatives from across the relevant pastoral center offices regularly meet with me to advise me on cases that arise and ways to strengthen our commitments.

Of course, no set of procedures is perfect. As the grand jury report illustrates, they are subject to the strengths and weaknesses of those entrusted to carry them out. Closed systems always tend toward self-protection; it is only when we create systems of accountability that we let in purifying light. That's what our practices are designed to do. They exist because we as a church have a grave responsibility to ensure the safety of our people. That is why I encourage anyone who has been victimized to contact our Office of Protection of Children and Youth at 800.994.6200 or protect.archchicago.org.

Anger, shock, grief, shame. There is one other word that we bishops must summon: resolve. We must resolve to face our failures and hold each other accountable. We must resolve to be clear-eyed about what we have done, what we have failed to do, and what remains to be done. We must resolve to live in the light of humility, of repentance, of honesty — the light of Christ. As your bishop, I pledge to continue holding firm to that resolve. And I ask for you to pray for all victims of abuse. I also invite you to review what I have written here and make suggestions for improving our safe-environment standards, ever heeding the Second Vatican Council's "Dogmatic Constitution on the Church," which called on the laity, "by reason of the knowledge, competence or outstanding ability which they may enjoy ... to express their opinion on those things which concern the good of the church."

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Card. Blase J. Cupich

CATECHISTS-MENTORS-SMALL GROUP LEADERS NEEDED!

Throughout the school year, St Francis de Sales serves around 650 children from 3 years old to 8th grade in Religious Education and 350 teens who participate in Confirmation preparation, Sunday Life Nights, and various retreats. As Fr. Ryan reminds us, "All for one...one for all... in Jesus Christ." These 1,000 young people NEED adults to share the love of Jesus with them.

Our Religious Education Ministry is a relational ministry, built on relationships. Children and teens need adults in their lives who are interested in building solid relationships with them and who will listen to them and value their opinions. These relationships are the key to children and teens feeling loved and accepted so that they can understand the love of God in practical ways. This is when real spiritual growth takes place in a person's life.

At the heart of Catechesis is a Person, the Person of Jesus Christ. To catechize is to share Christ's actions, words, and signs. Jesus walked with people, ate meals with them, and spent time with them. Jesus lived in relationship with others. This is our mission as the people of God, as the Church; His Church, to walk alongside our young people and to love them. Catechesis aims to put "people ... in communion ... with Jesus Christ: only He can lead us to the love of the Father in the Spirit and make us share in the life of the Holy Trinity." If you want to share Jesus' love with children or teens and help raise up the next generation of disciples - this ministry might be for you.

We are looking for Catechists, Mentors, and Leaders for all ages. As a catechist, you will receive all the materials needed to lead the classes or small groups. Leaders attend meetings throughout the year to discuss and experience what is going to be taught or covered at each session.

As Pope Paul VI said, teens and adults are more willing to listen to a witness than they are to a teacher, and that if they do listen to a teacher, it is because they are witnesses.

How will we support you? What would your commitment look like?

Preschool/Kindergarten and Grade School - "Finding God"

Preschool/Kindergarten and Grade School classes meet once a week, with the exception of the weeks of a school holiday or holy day. All instructional materials for each class session are provided. There will be a catechist meeting at the beginning of the year to introduce material, answer questions, and share ideas. Optional quarterly meetings will be offered to meet with your fellow teachers to learn more about your faith, share ideas and experiences, and to discuss what the next quarter will look like.

Middle School - "EDGE" (New)

Middle school teens are a unique bunch. This is a critical age to really be intentional about the relationships they are building with Jesus and with others. We are very excited to be kicking off a brand new program called "EDGE." The focus of the program is to form bonds with and between the teens in order to create a faith based community. The topic will be introduced in a large, interactive, fun group setting. Teens will then break into small groups where they will have the opportunity to ask questions and discuss their thoughts with their peers and their leader. Instead of being talked at, the teens will be encouraged to actively engage in what their faith means to them. Middle School EDGE Nights are twice a month and meet on either a Monday or a Tuesday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Catechists will receive all materials and information ahead of time so you are prepared for the session.

High School Confirmation - Chosen:

Our high school freshmen and sophomores meet approximately once a month. Sessions start at 3:15 p.m. and end with attending 5 p.m. Mass. Adult leaders are needed to facilitate small groups. Our Confirmation preparation program has been renewed for this upcoming year. We will be following the Chosen program, within the Life Teen Youth Ministry experience, which uses a variety of speakers through a DVD series to introduce content and create topics for discussion.

Throughout the sessions together, the teens will be invited to ask questions and then spend time discussing the answers. Some of the first questions discussed will be: Why am I here? How do I know God is real? We want the teens to know that God created you, He loves them and He will never ignore or forget them. Sharing your faith with teens is one of the most important ways you can support them as they contemplate who God is and how He is relevant in their life.

JUBILEE GARDEN

CROSS BEARERS NEEDED!

Inviting all teens who are 8th grade or older to prayerfully consider serving the parish as a Cross Bearer at weekend Masses. This important ministry of seeing the cross process in reminds us all why we are at mass and focuses our attention on HIM!

The commitment would be one Sunday a month, or more if you choose, based on your availability. A short training session is provided. Your youthful presence reminds the community that all of us - young & old - have an important role in our parish!

If you have any questions or are interested, please contact the Parish Office at 847-438-6622 or e-mail mmcglauchlin@stfrancislz.org.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY

Emmaus House of Hospitality supports members of our local communities in need. We "harvest" food from local groceries and restaurants that we then distribute at our weekly Community Dinners. We have openings to do pick-ups at the Rand Rd, Lake Zurich Pizza Hut (Saturdays 9:30 am, weekly, every other month), and Ela Jewel (Tuesdays 8 am, weekly). You'd then simply bring the items to Fr. Valker Hall where they are stored to be distributed each Sunday. We also need more people in our Community Dinner Coordinator role (Sundays, rotates with others). Please contact Becky Corrado at 847-707-0148 or rcorrado@allstate.com if you'd like to learn more or join our team of food harvesters or Laura Zickuhr at 847-650-4827 or lazfamily@juno.com if you'd like to learn more or join our team of Community Dinner Coordinators. It's a great way to give back to the community!

BECOME A PART OF THE MUSIC MINISTRY!

As the parish choir is taking a well-deserved break and enjoying their summer off, it gives me great pleasure to listen to our “choir in the pews.” Singing the hymns, psalms, and acclamations is our way of actively participating in the Liturgy. The Church calls us to “full, conscious, and active participation.” As we sing and pray together, it strengthens our faith. I encourage you to sing out “loud and clear” so that we all praise and give glory to God as a community.

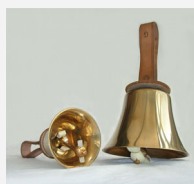

The music ministry is a more time-consuming ministry than most other liturgical ministries. I want to thank the choir (and their families) for their commitment to this ministry. According to my calendar, there were 31 rehearsals this season---that’s approximately 50 hours!! The choir also sang 40 masses plus the Thanksgiving Ecumenical service, Holy Thursday, Good Friday, and the Vigil of Easter. And, of course, midnight mass and Christmas Day and Easter! The role of the choir is to enrich the song of the congregation by adding harmonies and descants. Sometimes, the choir may sing an anthem alone. As you plan your fall calendar, won’t you consider joining this family of musicians?

Our cantors are singers and leaders of our congregation song. They sing WITH the entire gathered assembly, not instead of. The cantor sings verses of the psalms and, with simple gestures, leads us in the refrains. Our cantors are Jan Bahr, Diane Bryant, Dolores Dorn, Jan Hollen, Terry Ihm, Bill Masloske, Mary McCullough, Roberta Muran, Lisa Warren, and Mary Ann Beatty. Recently Mark Cappuccilli and Sarah Jacobs have joined the cantor ministry. Occasionally, we have college students who help us out. Kaylie Rosencranz and Shannon Flaherty have been with us in this role. St. Francis de Sales is truly blessed to have these wonderful musicians give of their time and talent. Please let them know how much we appreciate them.

If you are interested in joining our choir/cantors, or would just like more information, please contact me at musicsfds@stfrancislz.org or 847-726-4720.

Pat Stewart, Director of Liturgical Music

HANDBELL CHOIR

Do you like listening to our Handbell Choir? Do you play bells? Our bell choir has openings for 2 experienced ringers. One of our members is retiring from bells and another is moving. These wonderful ladies have been a large part of this group for many years and we will certainly miss them. We are looking for experienced ringers due to the level of our group. Do you know someone who might be interested? The group is open to high-school age and older; members do not have to be parishioners, but faith-filled people who want to praise God through music. If you are interested in learning to play bells, we are willing to teach you; however, it take time to learn the skills. Note-reading and rhythm counts are a necessity. For more information, contact Pat Stewart, Director of Liturgical Music, at 847-726-4720 or e-mail at musicsfds@stfrancislz.org.

RESURRECTION CHOIR

Do you have a nice voice and like to sing? Do you have a flexible work schedule or are you a stay-at-home parent? You just don’t have time to commit to rehearsals and Sundays? Maybe the Resurrection Choir is for you. No rehearsals and you don’t have to make every funeral—whatever works for you. We are a choir that comes a half-hour before a funeral and sings the “people” part at the funeral liturgy. No solos---we always have a cantor. Our group represents our parish and we are there to support our families in the difficult time of loss. Although we have about 15 people on our list, we average 3-8 people at a funeral—depending on schedules. Won’t you consider joining us? Contact Pat Stewart, Director of Liturgical Music, at 847-726-4720 or at musicsfds@stfrancislz.org.

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION— EVERY WEDNESDAY!

Open to all ages! Join us from 7 to 8 p.m. for this contemporary hour of Adoration each week. Josh Goodman leads worship through music. Feel free to pray along with the lyrics of the songs, journal, or just be present in the moment.

Please come out and support Emmaus House of Hospitality at Lake Zurich's 6th Annual Rock the Block on Saturday, September 8, 2018!

Each year the Village of Lake Zurich holds a free downtown block party to bring our community together by dining, dancing and rediscovering Lake Zurich. Starting at 5 p.m., there will be local restaurants, food trucks, balloon art, face painting, and entertainment by 7th Heaven, Suburban Cowboys and Breakfast Club.

STEUBENVILLE REFLECTION BY CATHY CHIARELLI

The weekend of July 20 I was blessed to be able to attend the Steubenville on the Lake Youth Conference in Kenosha Wisconsin at Carthage College. This was a wonderful opportunity to take 51 teens from St. Francis de Sales parish on retreat. Also attending were Pam Lynch, Director of Young Adult & Youth Ministry, and 12 adult chaperone/small group leaders: Joe Bruno, Traci Dahlinger, Kathleen Fuell, Mimi McGlauchlin, Coordinator for Religious Education, Katie McGlauchlin, Danny Neises, Matthew & Katy Roesner, Bill Weismann and Aimee Wright.

The theme for the weekend was REVEALED. "In this way the love of God was revealed to us: God sent his only Son into the world so that we might have life through him." 1 John 4:9.

There were excellent speakers who presented the compelling topic: "The Father's Love Revealed." The speakers all had a sincere desire to inspire a deeper intimacy with God. They talked about the mercy and love and plan that God has for each and every one of us.

One of the teen talks for the weekend that struck my heart was, that, we live in a world where there are voices shouting at us from all sides, trying to tell us who we are and who we aren't, who we should be and who we shouldn't be. If we pay too much attention to these voices, it won't be long we forget our true identity altogether. But amidst all the noise is our loving Father, who wants to make Himself know to us and speak truth about who we are. God's love is deeper and His plan for our lives is greater than anything the world has to offer. He is what gives our lives meaning and joy. Will we allow Him to reveal it to us? He has so much in store for us.

In this day and age it was a beautiful gift to see these teens realize what it meant to be a Catholic teenager. I witnessed teens' faith awaken and grow in strength. For some it allowed them to see God for the first time. For other teens, they realized the importance of growing their relationship with God and share that love for God with others. This was an amazing retreat experience for me. To be able to see the auditorium come to life with 2,000 teens gathered in the presence of Christ and to feel the presence of the Holy Spirit as He filled that auditorium. To witness those 2,000 teens singing in praise and worship during Mass and Adoration was truly awe-inspiring.

As a line from a song we sang throughout the weekend still resonates in my heart "Who the Son sets free, oh is free indeed, I'm a child of God. Yes I am!", I feel very blessed to have been a part of this retreat weekend.

Thank you Fr. Ryan.
