a Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host, by the divine power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen

LOVE AS GOD LOVES

Our Gospel today continues Jesus' Sermon on the Plain, in which we heard Luke's version of the Beatitudes. This week, Jesus gives us new "commandments," telling us how to live and act in the world as his disciples, rooted in the radical love of God for humanity. It reminds us of his later speech about loving one another as he loves us, in other words with a God-like love, the kind we see in today's psalm about God's mercy. How else could we do as Jesus tells us by loving our enemies, which seems impossible, until we remember that God gave us the example of Jesus, who is like God but also like us? David understands this merciful love when he spares the life of his enemy in the first reading. Finally, Paul tells us that we will become like Jesus if we act as he did, as God does.

This column is curated by Mary Jo Kunzmann, Judy Reilly, and Nancy Jarvis with the hope that it will help you on your journey to grow as disciples of Jesus.

Today's Gospel message is challenging for people of all ages. Jesus said, "To you who hear I say, love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you, pray for those who mistreat you." Allow yourself to imagine a world where we are loving our enemies. That image paints a radically different world, doesn't it? The power of love can be transformative; if only we dare unleash it!

GOSPEL MEDITATION

ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Sometimes, Jesus' teachings don't seem to make practical sense. When we hear things like love your enemies and do good to them, turn the other cheek when struck, give to anyone who asks, do to others as you would have them do to you, be merciful, stop judging, forgive, and give to others, we get a bit unsettled. After all, it's okay for God to do all of these things, but does He really want us to do them, too? Many good-hearted Christians really draw the line with some of these ideals and say, "No way!" They even remark that if someone did something hurtful to someone they loved, they would have no reservations seeking severe retribution. There is still this persistent thinking, even among those who consider themselves Christian, that a violent action deserves a violent response. Somehow, we continue to justify this.

Yet, it is most clearly against the very grain of the Gospel. Part of our difficulty has more to do with understanding God's love. We wrongly think that sinful or hurtful actions and evil people somehow are seen as lesser in God's eyes. They are not. God loves the sinner as much as He does the saint. And, both of these inclinations exist in every human being, even those who consider themselves holy. Both the capacity for good and the disposition toward evil exist in every one of us. Viktor Frankl has this to say when reflecting on the Holocaust: "Our generation is a realistic generation because we have learned what a human being really is. When all is said and done, man is that same creature who invented the gas-chambers of Auschwitz; but he is also that being who walked upright into those chambers with the prayer 'Shema Yisrael' on his lips."

If we believe in God, we have to act like God. Whether we like that idea is another issue. If we don't then perhaps, we need to reconsider our faith and whether we really believe in Jesus Christ. We are made in the image of God, not the image of ourselves. The Christian must, at all costs, leave resentment and the need for retaliation behind, lose defensiveness and bring into the mind and heart the realization of who we represent in this world.

"Give and gifts will be given to you; a good measure, packed together, shaken down, and overflowing, will be poured into your lap. For the measure with which you measure will in return be measured out to you." - Lk 6:38

THANKING GOD FOR MISSING SPEARS

Imagine how Saul must have felt when he awoke from his sleep and saw his spear missing from its resting place. Now imagine how he felt when he realized that the person who had it was the same person seeking his life — and there he sat, safe and sound. Now there's a day you don't forget your morning prayers.

I think if we look, we can all find a “missing spear moment” in our lives, when it hits us right in the gut that God has kept us safe from an impending disaster. This can be physical disaster, sure — but more commonly, I think it is spiritual disaster. Often the salvation comes through the gift of a person, or people, through whom God reveals His mercy.

When I was in high school, I had a circle of friends who were really into their faith. We were all in youth ministry together, and the bond we shared taught me a lesson that changed me as a person: we become those with whom we associate. I can look back now, all these years later, and see that these people are evidence of God's hand in my life.

Take a look at your life. In whose love has God shown you comfort? By whose hand has God brought you closer to Him, or kept you away from harm? Through whose friendship has God shaped you into the person you are?

Let's strive to remember to thank God for these people — and to thank them, too.

—Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

WHEN JESUS SAYS, “YOU CANNOT SERVE BOTH GOD AND MAMMON,” WHAT DOES HE MEAN? WHAT IS MAMMON?

When you hear Scripture proclaimed each Sunday, remember it wasn't originally written in English. Hebrew, Aramaic, Greek — these ancient tongues were the original language of our Old and New Testaments. Most of the time, all of the words are translated into our native language. Sometimes, a word or two is left in the original language. Such is the case in this Scripture passage.

Mammon is an ancient Aramaic word referring to money, wealth, or profit. Earthly wealth isn't bad in itself, nor does it automatically exclude us from being a disciple of Jesus. But what dominates our life? To serve money — that is, to seek accumulation of wealth for its own sake and to structure our lives around it — is morally problematic. What good is our wealth if it isn't at the service of others? What good is our wealth if its pursuit leads us to selfishness, obsession, greed, envy, and comparison? There are many things that can be opposed to our service of God — power, prestige, popularity. Ultimately, something in our lives will be our master. But there is only one God worth serving.

On behalf of St. Francis de Sales Bereavement Ministry and Forever in Our Hearts Grief Support Group, I invite parents and family members to share in a liturgy to honor children now entrusted to God's loving care. Whether death came recently or long ago, and whether they departed this life before birth, or as infants, young children or teens, or in adulthood, the lives of our beloved children were far too short.

Catholic Schools Week Essays

Strength for the Journey by Lauren Laning

Before I switched to St Francis de Sales School, I had no idea what to expect. I didn't know what the teachers would be like, or if I would get lost in the school. I was mostly worried about the people I'd be with for the rest of the school year, even in high school. I asked myself "what if they judge me?" or " what if they don't talk to me?" But on the first day of school, I was proved wrong. I found out Saint Francis has an amazing community, they do wonderful service projects, and push their students to excel.

One of the most important things at St Francis de Sales School is the community. I would not be in the spot I am today without the people around me and encouraging and supporting me along my way. My volleyball team is an amazing example of this. I was new this year, and I also tried a new sport, which was volleyball. My team always knows how to include me in games and practices even when I wasn't having the best day, or when I wasn't playing the best. Because of our amazing team work, we were able to win Conference Champions. Not only am I constantly improving with the help of others around me, but I also encourage others, like my second-grade buddy, Eva. I encourage her and even she encourages me to do better. I also love to work together with my classmates. Working with others around me helps me have a better understanding of their point of view, which I always enjoy learning about.

St Francis de Sales School also does an incredible job at encouraging students to participate and doing service projects. My Religion teacher, Mrs. Nigro, recently arranged a service project where we could help raise money for Heifer International, a nonprofit organization that gives farm animals to families and people in poverty. Also, every student has a chance to participate in School Mass, whether it's reading the petitions or participating in the choir. Another form of service is NJHS. We have fundraisers like a School Supply Drive, Toy Drives, etc.

Ever since I switched to St Francis de Sales School, I've noticed that I've been putting more time and effort into the school work. My teachers are constantly supporting me and giving me advice to make my products better. I feel like I can ask any question without feeling judged or overwhelmed. But teachers also have a very high expectation which pushes me to do my best. Also, whatever class, we learn about God, and every student at St Francis de Sales School takes a Religion Class. so St Francis de Sales School not only pushes me to do my best but also helps me grow my faith and also makes me a better person.

St Francis de Sales School has honestly become like home for me, and I have never felt so welcomed by the people around me at a new school. My teacher's really pushed me to be a better person everyday. I couldn't have asked for a better school. If I had never switched schools I would not be at the level of success I am today.
