a Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host, by the divine power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen

Third Sunday of Easter

"The sun of all spiritual exercises (is) the most holy, sacred, and supremely sovereign sacrament and sacrifice of the Mass." - St Francis de Sales

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — Brought before the Sanhedrin, the apostles give witness to Jesus Christ. (Acts 5:27-32, 40b-41).

Psalms — I will praise you, Lord, for you have rescued me (Psalm 30).

Second Reading — In his vision John sees all in heaven and on earth give honor and glory to the one on the throne and to the Lamb (Revelation 5:11-14).

Gospel — Jesus appears to the disciples by the sea of Tiberias (John 21:1-19 [1-14]).

"Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power and riches, wisdom and strength, honor and glory and blessing." — Romans 10:8

GOD'S OVERFLOWING KINDNESS

The superabundance of God's kindness ties all of today's readings together. Especially when life overwhelms us, the Lord provides all we need, and then some. In the Acts of the Apostles, Peter takes the lead when facing the Sanhedrin. We might expect the man who denied Jesus to crumble under the imposing glare of the high priest. Instead, the Holy Spirit helps him testify to his faith in Jesus Christ. What Peter had lacked before, courage and conviction, God provides in abundance. Similarly, today's Gospel shows Jesus providing a surplus of fish for the disciples. They have no luck fishing until the Lord intercedes. Jesus supplies an almost ridiculous number of fish, and he cooks it for them, too. As our reading from Revelation affirms, the overflowing riches of God require constant praise. Countless creatures—"everything in the universe"—cry out to honor the Lord, forever and ever.

This column is curated by Mary Jo Kunzmann, Judy Reilly, and Nancy Jarvis with the hope that it will help you on your journey to grow as disciples of Jesus.

"Is a lamp brought in to be placed under a bushel basket or under a bed?" (Mark 4:21) Young Jesus depended on his parents. On a stormy sea, he slept, depending on his friends to sail. Depending on his Father, he allowed himself to be turned over to violence and crucifixion. HE is our LIGHT, our lamp. His mission is in OUR hands; in our words and actions. He depends on us to live our faith; to let our LIGHT shine. Don't worry about people's responses. Rely on the Holy Spirit to open the hearts of those who experience your LIGHT.

GOSPEL MEDITATION

ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Could it be that God's image has become so soiled and distorted that it is hard for us to see it? Our self-serving agendas have done a great job twisting God's image into what profits us. We want our agenda to be God's agenda and use prayer as the convincing leverage we need. Worse still, our success and egocentric agenda often erases God's image completely, replacing it with our own. St. Oscar Romero instructs us that the Son of Man "dies on the cross to cleanse God's image, which is soiled in today's humanity, a humanity so enslaved, so selfish, so sinful." Striving to preserve control of our destinies at all costs, we fail to see the risen suffering servant, the Christ, standing right beside us.

Jesus, who suffered and died on a cross and was raised from the dead, corrects our soiled image of God. He shows us God as God is, not who we want to make God to be. God is the God of the poor, the weak, and the marginalized. He is the God who tenderly caresses us when we are suffering and hurting, assuring us that all will be safe and well. He is the God of equity, peace, justice, and compassion who wants happiness for each of His children, desiring their wellbeing and success. God goes where men and women are afraid to go, sitting with the lost, the broken, and the sorrowing. St. Oscar Romero challenges us to illuminate with "Christ's light ... even the most hideous caverns of the human person: torture, jail, plunder, want, chronic illness. The oppressed must be saved." The resurrection calls us to be God's microphone, a messenger, and a prophet (St. Oscar Romero).

Using eyes that see beyond the limited constructs and desires of our world, we can see the true and real Jesus standing before us, calling us to transformation and change. Asking us more than once, "do you love me?" We are beckoned to give an answer. Answering in the affirmative, it is now our task to feed the sheep and the lambs who belong to God. In short, equipped with the power of the resurrection and a corrected image of God our task is to make things better, brighter, holier, more life-giving, and just for all of God's children. Considering our choices, our interactions, our philosophies, and aspirations, how can we do this?

Jesus said to them, "Come, have breakfast." And none of the disciples dared to ask him, "Who are you?" because they realized it was the Lord. Jesus came over and took the bread and gave it to them, and in like manner the fish. - Jn 21:12-13

GIFTS IN DISGUISE

Have you ever opened a gift and wondered what the giver was thinking?

I won't call out any of my family or friends here, but suffice to say, I think we have all been the confused recipient of a sweater that wasn't our size or a gift card to a store where we don't shop. But we smiled all the same and said how much it meant to us, because we know that when it comes to gifts, it's all about the gesture.

Suffering is a lot like that — the gift you never asked for, and don't really want to receive. Sometimes we look at suffering and, like the apostles who see Jesus as a stranger on the shore, we don't recognize it for what it can be. We don't appreciate the catalyst suffering can be for change, for growth, for grace.

What was the gift that you received in disguise? Was it a relationship that confounded and frustrated you? Was it a job that tested your spirit? An obstacle that stopped you dead in your tracks? A rejection that threatened to break your spirit?

If I go back and look at the worst gifts I've ever gotten, chances are that I didn't like them because I didn't know what to do with them — they were more fitted for someone else's interests, someone else's life. It's the same with suffering. We're tempted to cast suffering aside when it comes our way because it doesn't fit the person we are. Suffering is made to fit the person God knows we have the ability, with His grace, to become.

Hang onto that suffering. Unlike the misshapen sweater, it really will come in handy.

—Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS

ARE CATHOLICS ALLOWED TO DONATE THEIR ORGANS?

Yes, Catholics are allowed to donate their organs. In fact, the Catechism of the Catholic Church praises this practice when it notes that, "Organ donation after death is a noble and meritorious act and is to be encouraged as an expression of generous solidarity" (no. 2296).

The Church has a series of guidelines for health care providers called The Ethical and Religious Directives for Catholic Health Services. This document helps us see organ donation as an act of charity, but it also reminds us that we have to be sure that donations of organs by living donors do not "sacrifice or seriously impair any essential bodily function and the anticipated benefit to the recipient is proportionate to the harm to the donor" (no. 30); trained medical professionals can help to make this assessment. In the case of organ donation at the end of life, we must be sure of the intentions of the donor or of their proxy are always respected, and that the dignity of the human body is always respected.

In the end, we can look to Pope Saint John Paul II and his encyclical Evangelium Vitae, where he noted that organ donation is a beautiful act of expressing the culture of life, when "performed in an ethically acceptable manner, with a view to offering a chance of health or even of life itself to the sick who sometimes have no other hope" (no. 86).

Deacon's Corner

*A*s I am sure you all remember that this past Sunday was Divine Mercy Sunday and the Gospel was from Jn 20: 19-31. Today I want to talk about both aspects of that day, the fact that we celebrated both Divine Mercy Sunday and the Gospel of John regarding Doubting Thomas. This Gospel is one of my favorites because we all are able to relate to its content. You see, I believe that at some point in our own spiritual journeys, we have become a Doubting Thomas. I am not being judgmental, but I suggest that everyone reading this today may be able to relate to what I am saying.

I will only refer to myself, as I always do, when speaking about these types of things as it relates to ourselves. But I ask you all to stop and think about the Gospel of John. The basis is the coming of Jesus two times after His Crucifixion, Death and Resurrection to the upper room to meet His closest friends who, after being with Him nearly every day for the past three years, abandoned Him in His hour of need. And when Jesus appeared each time in the upper room, He said the same thing; "peace be with you". The disciples who saw Jesus the first time told this to Thomas who said; "unless I see the mark of the nails in His hands and put my finger in the mark of the nails and my hand in His side, I will not believe".

I can only imagine what Thomas, as well as all disciples present, were thinking. They lived with Jesus, they ate with Jesus, they prayed with Jesus, they watched 100s, perhaps 1,000s of miracles that Jesus performed, and yet they abandoned Him and Thomas even doubted His existence. But we must remember that Thomas, like all the others and like ourselves are just ordinary people, with our own fears and doubts. Jesus knows this. That is why He came back to them, to assure them that He will always be with them (and us) in the form of the third person of the Blessed Trinity, the Holy Spirit. This is when Jesus says; "As the Father sent me, I also send you". And in saying this, Jesus entrusts upon His disciples the same mission of bringing forgiveness of sins to be carried out by the power of the Holy Spirit.

You see, I believe that having doubts is something that Jesus knows of us. After all, we are human. And most importantly to remember is that Jesus will always forgive us for whatever we do as long as we confess with a contrite heart and keep our Faith in Him strong. For as long as our Faith is strong in Jesus as our Messiah, we may have life in His name.

The questions I ask myself often are; "how do I test that Faith in myself? What strengthens that Faith? What do I experience that might undermine that Faith? And how do I overcome the temptation that keeps me apart from Jesus Christ?" Tough questions, not easy answers. But the prize at the end of our journey makes it all worthwhile.

Ask yourselves, "are the doors of my heart locked like the doors of the Upper Room?" If so, know that the Holy Spirit has already entered your heart and will dwell within until our journey is complete, so welcome Him daily. In conclusion, I will say that I got a little further into the Gospel than I had anticipated so I will write a follow-up next week on Divine Mercy Sunday.

My Blessings to all,

Deacon John

"Most importantly to remember is that Jesus will always forgive us for whatever we do as long as we confess with a contrite heart and keep our Faith in Him strong."
