A VISIBLE GOD

We find it difficult to convey ideas to people unless we can actually show them something, demonstrate what we mean. God, who is invisible and truly beyond human understanding, apparently faces the same difficulty. People want to see, not just listen to an idea. So God gave us Jesus Christ, God made visible in the world.

During these past weeks we have seen how Jesus was revealed as an infant to the shepherds and the magi, and then began his adult public life at his baptism by John. Today's Gospel reading tells us of his first sign, providing wine for the wedding guests at Cana.

Of course, even Jesus, God made visible, was not always easily understood in his own day, nor is he even now. So we have to ponder what we see: the poverty and simplicity of his birth, his humility and openness before John the Baptist, his kindness and compassion toward people in their ordinary problems, such as running short of wine at a wedding. Yet it is in coming to know Jesus that we come to know God.

SALVATION

God is crazy in LOVE with us.

Jesus wants a PERSONAL relationship with us. Really?

Is this Catholic teaching? Yes! Because what could be a more intimate personal relationship than the EUCHARIST where we receive the Body & Blood of Jesus? Let Jesus transform you from the INSIDE-your world view, your understanding of who you are- and let Him teach you to LOVE as He LOVES. "You can't fix yourself: only God can do that, but he's waiting for you to let him."

THEOLOGY 101

A BISHOP?

By Father Louis J. Cameli, S.T.D.

The recent ordination of three new auxiliary bishops for the Archdiocese of Chicago, Bishop Mark Bartosic, Bishop Bob Casey and Bishop Ron Hicks, reminds all of us of the importance of bishops in the Catholic Church. At the same time, many people, including many Catholics, would be hard pressed to say exactly who a bishop is and what a bishop does.

We can easily slip into applying models from our secular experience to Church matters. So, we might think of a bishop as an executive or CEO – maybe even a branch manager responsible to the Pope. That sort of thinking would not be accurate. It is best to begin with a larger sense of the Church.

Our Catholic Church is a single reality that has both a spiritual and a structural dimension. It has an internal life directed by the Holy Spirit and an institutional structure to support its religious mission. Within that reality of Church, there are bishops who, as the original Greek word episcopos indicates, serve as overseers. They exercise a threefold ministry of Word, Sacrament and pastoral governance. They proclaim God's Word by preaching, teaching and faithfully holding fast to the faith that comes to us from the Apostles. They celebrate the Sacraments and, along with their priest co-workers, bring the sanctifying presence of the Lord to his people. They exercise pastoral governance that involves both the administration of the Church's structured life and holding up the perennial mission entrusted to it by the Lord before the entire Church.

When bishops authentically exercise their threefold ministry of Word, Sacrament and pastoral governance, they serve the unity of the Church. That means that they foster the unity of their local church or portion of God's flock entrusted to them. It also means that they foster the unity and communion with other local churches and the universal Church, guided by the Petrine ministry of the Pope.

As you can easily see, a diocesan bishop, that is, a bishop responsible for a given local church or diocese, has great and multiple responsibilities. And those responsibilities grow in relationship to the size of the diocese. The Archdiocese of Chicago, for example, represents a very large diocese, one of the largest in the world. To serve the Church well, the Archbishop of Chicago needs help. For that reason, the Holy Father gives him auxiliary or helper bishops who can assist him. The Archbishop, together with his auxiliary bishops, priests and deacons, can offer the people of God in Cook and Lake counties the ministry of Word, Sacrament and pastoral governance. They can foster the unity of this local church and insure that it is linked in a communion of faith, hope and love with other local churches and with the Church Universal.

It is essential to remember that the ordained ministry of bishops, priests and deacons does not exhaust all the ministry and leadership of the Church. In fact, ordained ministry – as the Second Vatican Council tells us very clearly – is ordered in a mutual relationship to all the baptized. In other words, those who are ordained are to enable and to encourage all the baptized to assume their responsibilities in the Church and in the world to bring the living Christ to all people and to make ready a path for the coming of the Kingdom of God.

When the entire Church harmoniously fosters the gifts of all who belong to the community of faith – the ordained and all the baptized – then that Church becomes a mirror of the most holy Trinity: a mystery of diversity and unity, an effective sign of what God wants for all humanity.

We began by considering bishops, but clearly we can never consider the bishops in isolation. They are – along with us – a part of God's grand plan to bring new life in Jesus Christ through the power of the Holy Spirit to our world that is so much in need of healing redemption. ■

COME, FOLLOW ME

Annual Catholic Appeal

November 30, 2017

Dear Father Ryan,

Our Annual Catholic Appeal is framed in the words of Jesus: Come, follow me. It is an invitation to be Christ for others and to live in a community of discipleship. As Christ's community we help to sustain Catholic schools and parishes in need, support programs of religious education, ministerial formation, and promote the protection of life and peace and justice. Through the Annual Appeal, we together support the efforts of Catholic Relief Services that cares for people across the globe who struggle and suffer because of natural disasters.

Since St. Francis de Sales elected to participate in the ACA Incentive Plan in 2017, your 2018 goal is reduced to 75% of your regular goal. Therefore, your 2018 goal is 4.5% of the previous year's offertory income. Your offertory income for Fiscal Year 2016-2017 was $2,036,797. Therefore, your target is $91,656. When parishioner contributions exceed the parish goal, St. Francis de Sales will receive a rebate of 100% of the funds donated over the goal. Just as you have my gratitude, you also have my prayers. Let us pray for one another. Together, as his disciples, we can do so much to bring Jesus to a world that is deeply in need. With God's grace and help, we will fulfill our mission.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Cardinal Blase J. Cupich, Archbishop of Chicago

ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

A Minute with the Office for the Protection of Children and Youth

December 18

Wise Men Still Search for Him

The staff of OPCY sends wishes for a blessed Advent and a Merry Christmas. May the birth of our savior remind us of the joys of childhood and give us the courage to continue to protect all children.

School Audits

After a discussion with the Office of Catholic Schools, OPCY moved up the deadline for schools. The School Annual Survey was due November 30, 2018. At that time all school employees and volunteers were to be in complete compliance. Please contact OPCY at 312-534-5254 and ask for Carol, Maricela or Daphne if you have any questions. While we are not granting extensions, OPCY is always available to help with compliance.

Sexual Harassment Prevention Training.

To provide a safe environment for all clergy and employees, the Archdiocese of Chicago is implementing a sexual harassment prevention training program. All clergy and employees will be expected to complete this training annually through the VIRTUS system – the same system used to provide training for Protecting God's Children and to verify compliance for volunteers.

While not a part of safe environment requirements, OPCY is helping HR with this training because of our experience with the Virtus site. Send questions to Virtus@archchicago.org

The training will be assigned by Vicariate to all clergy and parish employees (schools have already done this) on the following schedule:

December 3 - Vicariate I

December 10 – Vicariate II

December 17 - Vicariate III

January 7 – Vicariate IV

January 14 – Vicariate V

January 21 - Vicariate VI

These dates are subject to change based on any number of issues.

Promise to Protect Pledge to Heal

In 1992 Cardinal Bernardin began the archdiocese's response to child sexual abuse. In 2002 the Charter for the Protection of Children and Youth codified for the entire country what Chicago had been doing for the US. Here are some ways Chicago continues to implement its requirements.

Article 1 of the Charter requires effective outreach to those making allegations of sexual abuse by clergy. In 1992 Chicago had the first office of Assistance Ministry. Twenty-six years later over 400 survivors and family members have been served through the Office of Assistance Ministry.

Article 4 requires all allegations to be sent to public authorities.

The Archdiocese has been doing that since 1992.

Article 12 requires all clergy, employees and volunteers who work with children be trained on how to create safe environment. Since 2003, over 205,200 adults have attended a Protecting God's Children training, learning the 5 steps of prevention.

Article 13 requires clergy, employees and volunteers who work with children to undergo background checks. Since 2003 over 177,000 checks on employees and volunteers have been run.

Article 17 calls for ongoing formation for priests and deacons. Our seminarian human formation program spans 6 years at Mundelein Seminary. The whole cycle of human development is covered: personality structures, setting boundaries, developing healthy friendships, masculine etiquette, sexuality, dealing with conflict, and history of celibacy. The seminarians are also evaluated on how they present themselves, such as: appearance, speech, behavior, and how they keep commitments. Additionally, there are 3 adjunct psychologists that work closely with our seminary. They are a resource for individual counseling and offer various seminars on human development.

Cardinal Cupich is committed to protecting children in the archdiocese. He has a critical part in the upcoming meeting in Rome of the Episcopal Presidents Pope Francis. Please keep him and all those in attendance in your prayers.

Parent guide links:

In order for child sexual abuse to occur the offender has to groom the community into thinking s/he is a good person. That will give them access to children. Then s/he must groom a family, so they too will give him/her access to a child. Then the offender must overcome any resistance from a child. This is done in a steady, planned process. It is not accidental. This is not about an accidental touch.

By attending a Protecting God's Children training our communities and families are trained to identify a grooming process, to recognize the grooming behavior of someone looking for a child to abuse.

Our policies do not stop with adults. Since the last hurdle an offender must overcome is to lower the resistance of the child, children too, must be taught how to speak out to protect themselves. They must be taught to recognize unsafe behaviors, to know its ok to tell an adult "No!", and to know to whom to report unsafe behaviors. That is what our students' training programs are designed to do.

OPCY has learned of a booklet put together by the Chicago Children's Advocacy center titled Keeping My Family Safe. Anyone interested can see the booklet by following this link. This is an excellent resource in addition to the parent guides from the programs used by parishes and schools.

It does not replace the training offered to all our students; however, these guides can give parents an opportunity to discuss this subject with their children and just as helpful, how to discuss this sensitive issue without destroying the innocence of children.

Cardinal Cupich and Bishop Ron Hicks Interview

Jan Slattery, a member of the National Review Board of the USCCB and former Director of the Office for the Protection of Children and Youth in the Archdiocese of Chicago, hosted an interview with Cardinal Cupich and Bishop Hicks to discuss the handling of the sex abuse crisis in the Church. The conversation can be viewed on our Catholic Chicago YouTube channel at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EFY8HLJrPH4>

Humanae Vitae: Questions & Answers

Celebrating the 42nd Anniversary of Pope Paul VI's Encyclical of 1968

Paragraph numbers from the encyclical are marked HV with the corresponding number

What is an encyclical? An encyclical is a pastoral letter written by the Pope and sent to the whole Church and even to the whole world, to express teaching on some important matter. Encyclicals are expressions of the ordinary Papal magisterium. An encyclical is the highest form of Papal authority (for further information see Catechism of the Catholic Church paragraph 892).

What then is the important matter found in the encyclical Humanae Vitae? The important matter of the encyclical concerns the importance and meaning of marriage, conjugal love, the meaning of sex, and the procreation of children. According to the teaching of Humanae Vitae, marriage has a three-fold inseparable purpose: love, unity, and openness to life. Humanae Vitae are the first two Latin words of the encyclical, roughly translated into English as "human life." It is about the duty of creating and fostering human life and all that it entails: the spiritual, physical, and emotional life that is shared between spouses

Why is this encyclical important? In viewing modern threats toward marital happiness and family well being, the Pope exercised his ministry to teach in order to clarify the mission of marriage and the service married couples give to God, each other and society. (HV 2)

- The Magisterium (the Bishops as successors of the Apostles) has the vocation to interpret the natural moral law as contained in the Scriptures (Bible) and the Tradition (teachings handed on through the centuries).

- Humanae Vitae was written because there was a need to affirm the truth of God's plan for marriage and sexuality. The Church, not avoiding the confrontations of society, sought to clarify the Catholic belief regarding sex and marriage. (HV 2, 4)

Is there anything new in the encyclical? Humanae Vitae offers a greater clarity in its teaching that marriage is a "communion of persons." It teaches respect for love and life, and allows for responsibly spacing the conception of children.

What is responsible parenthood? Humanae Vitae introduces the term responsible parenthood referring to the gift and calling that the married man and woman have in being cooperators with Him. They can become co-creators with Him thus sharing in His creative love and power. (HV 7)

Why is this so important? Conjugal love as designed by our Heavenly Father is free, total, faithful, and fruitful. God, our loving Father, from whom all parenthood comes, orders marriage towards the salvation of the man and woman and of their children in and through Christ. It follows then that the life of the couple is ordered toward God, to themselves, to the family, and to society. (HV 8, 9, 10)

What are the important points of Humanae Vitae? Marital relations, when as man and wife the two chastely unite and by which human life is transmitted, is "good and worthy of human dignity."

The most important point of the encyclical is: each and every marital act must remain open to life. This means that a couple may never separate the two aspects of sexual intercourse. Conjugal love is both:

- 1) Procreative and
- 2) Unitive,

and vice versa – unitive and procreative. The two inherently form the marital act. (HV 11, 12)

What is forbidden by Humanae Vitae? According to God's moral law, it is not permitted to

- 1) Directly interrupt the life already begun and, above all, it is forbidden to willfully procure an abortion.
- 2) Sterilize, either temporarily or permanently the man or the woman. (vasectomy and tubal ligation are forbidden).
- 3) Use artificial means to render the sexual act sterile (artificial forms of birth control: pills, Depo-Provera, condoms, IUD, etc.). (HV 14)

What is permitted in Humanae Vitae? If there are serious reasons for spacing the births of children, whether because of health or external circumstances, it is permissible to take into account the natural cycles of the man and woman to have relations during periods of infertility [an example would be Natural Family Planning]. (HV 16)

What predictions, if any did Pope Paul VI make in the encyclical? Pope Paul VI stated in this encyclical that artificial birth control would lead to:

- 1) An easy path to marital infidelity,
- 2) Moral degeneration,
- 3) A loss of man's respect for woman whereby he would no longer care for physical and psychological well being,
- 4) Governments imposing coercive methods of control that inhibit freedom in one the most sacred of acts, and
5. Mankind thinking that he has unlimited power over his body. (HV 17)

Have these come true? One need only look around to see that since the Pope said this in 1968, infidelity and divorce have skyrocketed, and morality has been lowered in almost every facet of society. Generally, there has been a decline in respect for women by men. It seems that "no longer do men care for her physical and psychological equilibrium." Men have even come to "the point of considering her as a mere instrument of selfish enjoyment and no longer as his respected and beloved companion." (HV 17) Pornography and prostitution are more common, as are domestic violence, child abuse, sexually transmitted diseases, and abortion. Governments, instead of protecting life, have legalized abortion, forced sterilization, and promoted artificial contraception throughout the world. Finally, mankind has left the moral order and has begun to destroy human life at its most vulnerable and innocent stages in practices such as embryonic stem cell research and in vitro fertilization, which also separates the marital act from conception.

What other predictions did Pope Paul VI make? The Pope taught that the discipline that the man and woman need for periodic abstinence from sex (periods of conjugal chastity) is possible with the help of prayer and sacramental grace. In fact, rather than harming conjugal love, periods of conjugal chastity confer on sex a high human value. The Pope states: "Such discipline bestows upon family life fruits of serenity and peace, and facilitates the solution of other problems" such as selfishness, and this discipline increases self-giving love, attention for one's partner and care for their children. (HV 20)

Did the Pope have a message for others besides married couples in this encyclical? Yes, Pope Paul VI challenged governments to protect the moral order. Politics and public education should respect the liberty of the citizens of the nation, the individual personhood of every human being, and the moral order. (HV 23) The Pope also invited scientists to establish a satisfactory basis for the moral regulation of offspring. (HV 24) Additionally, the Pope exhorted doctors, and those of the medical profession, to safeguard what is compatible with the Christian vocation. (HV 27) Bishops and priests are encouraged in this encyclical to faithfully preach and teach with charity and zeal this message of life and love as it is one of the greatest responsibilities in the modern age. (HV 29, 30)

What does all this mean for married couples? The teaching of our faith, as given to us by God and taught by the Church, invites married couples to be open to God, to one another and to children. These dispositions are essential to the nature of marriage. This means that being a disciple of Jesus Christ, a loving spouse, and responsible parent asks for fidelity to God, commitment to family, and self-mastery. The Lord has entrusted to married couples the mission of making present the holiness of God and the sweetness of the law that unites their mutual love and generous service closely to the love of God. (HV 21, 25)

In summary, the teaching of the Church as found in the encyclical Humanae Vitae is just as important now as it was 40 years ago. Pope John Paul II referred to the Church's teaching on contraception as part of the "permanent patrimony" of the Catholic faith meaning that this is a timeless and beautiful teaching.

WORD ON FIRE

By Bishop Robert Barron

The McCarrick mess

When I was going through school, the devil was presented to us as a myth, a literary device, a symbolic manner of signaling the presence of evil in the world. I will admit to internalizing this view and largely losing my sense of the devil as a real spiritual person. What shook my agnosticism in regard to the evil one was the clerical sex abuse scandal of the nineties and the early aughts. I say this because that awful crisis just seemed too thought-through, too well-coordinated, to be simply the result of chance or wicked human choice. The devil is characterized as “the enemy of the human race” and particularly the enemy of the church. I challenge anyone to come up with a more devastatingly effective strategy for attacking the mystical body of Christ than the abuse of children and young people by priests. This sin had countless direct victims of course, but it also crippled the church financially, undercut vocations, caused people to lose confidence in Christianity, dramatically compromised attempts at evangelization, etc., etc. It was a diabolical masterpiece.

Sometime in the early aughts, I was attending a conference and found myself wandering more or less alone in the area where groups and organizations had their booths.

I came over to one of the tables and the woman there said, “You’re Father Barron, aren’t you?” I replied affirmatively, and she continued, “You’re doing good work for the church, but this means that the devil wants to stop you. And you know, he’s a lot smarter than you are and a lot more powerful.” I think I just mumbled something to her at that moment, but she was right, and I knew it. All of this has come back to me in the wake of the Archbishop McCarrick catastrophe. St. Paul warned us that we battle, not against flesh and blood, but against “powers and principalities.” Consequently, the principal work of the church at this devastating moment ought to be prayer, the conscious and insistent invoking of Christ and the saints.

Now I can hear people saying, “So Bishop Barron is blaming it all on the devil.” Not at all. The devil works through temptation, suggestion, and insinuation — and he accomplishes nothing without our cooperation. If you want to see the principle illustrated, google Luca Signorelli’s image of the Antichrist in the Orvieto Cathedral. You’ll see what I mean. Archbishop McCarrick did wicked things and so did those, it appears, who enabled him. And we have to come to terms with these sins.

Before I broach the subject of how to do this, permit me to say a few words about unhelpful strategies being bandied about. A first one is indiscriminate scapegoating. The great philosopher René Girard taught us that when communities enter into crisis, people typically commence desperately to cast about for someone or some group to blame. In the catharsis of this indiscriminate accusation, they find a kind of release, an ersatz peace. “All the bishops should resign!” “The priesthood is a cesspool of immorality!” “The seminaries are all corrupt!” As I say, these assertions might be emotionally satisfying at some level, but they are deeply unjust and conduce toward greater and not less dysfunction. The second negative strategy is the riding of ideological hobby horses. So lots of commentators — left, center and right — have chimed in to say that the real cause of the McCarrick disaster is, take your pick, the ignoring of Humanae vitae, priestly celibacy, rampant homosexuality in the church, the mistreatment of homosexuals, the sexual revolution, etc. Mind you, I’m not saying for a moment that these aren’t important considerations and that some of the suggestions might not have real merit. But I am saying that launching into a consideration of these matters that we have been debating for decades and that will certainly not admit of an easy adjudication amounts right now to a distraction.

So what should be done? The U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) has no juridical or canonical authority to discipline bishops. And even if it tried to launch an investigation, it has, at the moment, very little credibility. Only the pope has juridical and disciplinary powers in regard to bishops. Hence, I would suggest (as a lowly back-bencher auxiliary) that the bishops of the United States — all of us — petition the Holy Father to form a team, made up mostly of faithful lay Catholics skilled in forensic investigation, and to empower them to have access to all of the relevant documentation and financial records. Their task should be to determine how Archbishop McCarrick managed, despite his widespread reputation for iniquity, to rise through the ranks of the hierarchy and to continue, in his retirement years, to function as a roving ambassador for the church and to have a disproportionate influence on the appointment of bishops. They should ask the ecclesial version of Sen. Howard Baker's famous questions: "What did the responsible parties know and when did they know it?" Only after these matters are settled will we know what the next steps ought to be.

In the meantime, and above all, we should ask the heavenly powers to fight with us and for us. I might suggest especially calling upon the one who crushes the head of the serpent. 🙏

Sports on Sundays OK, except when used to skip Mass, says Vatican

by Catholic News Service

VATICAN CITY (CNS) - A new Vatican document cautions against the dangers of highly competitive children's sports, political and economic pressures on athletes to win "at all costs" and the unsportsmanlike or violent behavior of fans. The 52-page document on sports also calls on every group or institution sponsoring sports programs to have expert-guided child protection policies in place and it urged bishops, parishes and lay Catholics to be proactive in helping "humanize" sports. The document, "Giving the Best of Yourself," also condoned sports on Sundays as a means of bringing families and communities together in joy and celebration, but only as long as such events are not used as an excuse to miss Mass. The document was released June 1 by the Dicastery for Laity, the Family and Life, and is the first Vatican document on sports, said Cardinal Kevin Farrell, the dicastery's prefect. In a message to the cardinal, Pope Francis applauded the document and said, "Sport is a very rich source of values and virtues that help us to become better people."

Msgr. Mike Burke, better known as Father Mike, prays with Wisconsin Badger football players before their game Nov 11, 2017, against Iowa. The Dicastery for Laity, the Family and Life released a document June 1 at the Vatican on sports, titled "Giving the Best of Yourself," offering guidelines, recommendations and warnings.

A Christmas Thank You

"Go, tell it on the mountain that Jesus Christ is born!" This melody and many others still resound in our hearts and minds from our Christmas celebrations. It takes a lot of musicians to make our liturgies at Christmas such glorious ones. Starting on Christmas Eve at 4:00pm Mass, our youth choir, under the direction of Benjamin Valle, sang and played instruments. They faithfully attended rehearsals and sounded like angels. Matthew Nerenberg played oboe, Ryan Donnan and Olivia Kesler played viola, and Liam Mulroe sang the psalm and alleluia. Olga Lunetta accompanied them on piano. We are truly blessed!

At the 4:15pm Mass, Kaylie Rosencranz was the cantor. She recently finished college and is teaching. Kaylie also sang with the parish choir at the midnight mass. Blessed are we to have her with us. The 6:00pm Mass and the 12:30 Mass, accompanied by Olga, had some of her piano students playing Christmas music and a student from St. Francis de Sales school played flute. It is truly wonderful to celebrate with our children. Vanessa Thomsen, a band teacher, played flute at the 8:00am Mass.

The 9:30am Christmas Day Mass was led by college/high school students. How wonderful it is that our college students come home and share their talents with us! Led by Chris Misik, we heard beautiful voices sing "O Holy Night." They were accompanied by college students Lauren Mazurkiewicz on flute and Megan Kalafut on cello, and Emma Belew was the cantor.

Our Midnight Mass really began at 11:25pm, when our choir and bells processed into church. What a glorious sound it was with the choir, handbells, brass, timpani, and organ! A wonderful job by all. Many choir members came back to sing at the 11:00am Mass on Christmas Day, along with the brass, timpani, and organ. Thank you to Dave Strutzel for playing organ for us! With his help, I was able to direct the choir, bells, brass, and timpani. Thank you choir and bells, for your countless hours of rehearsal. You made it possible for all of us to truly celebrate the birth of "our newborn King".

We can never forget to thank our cantors. They, and their families, give of their time and talent so that we can all sing the music of our church. Thank you for all you give to this ministry! We could not have done it without you! So I give a big "Shout-Out" to all of you, thank you, beautiful job, and Happy New Year. - Patricia Stewart, Director of Liturgical Music

The Importance of Eucharistic Adoration

Pope Francis leads Benediction outside the Basilica of St. Mary Major at the conclusion of the Corpus Christi procession in Rome May 30. (CNS photo/Paul Haring) The importance of Eucharistic Adoration is shown in the fact that the Church has a ritual that regulates it: the Rite of Eucharistic Exposition and Benediction. This is an extension of the adoration of the Blessed Sacrament which occurs in every Mass: "Behold the Lamb of God, behold him who takes away the sins of the world. Blessed are those called to the supper of the Lamb." Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament flows from the sacrifice of the Mass and serves to deepen our hunger for Communion with Christ and the rest of the Church. The Rite concludes with the ordained minister blessing the faithful with the Blessed Sacrament. - taken from the USCCB website

ST. PEREGRINE MONTHLY PRAYER SERVICE AND BENEDICTION FOR THOSE AFFECTED BY CANCER

Saturday, January 26th - 9:15am

a Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host, by the divine power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prawl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

† Please Pray for the Sick †

As members of our parish faith community, we remember those who are ill, who are homebound, and all nursing home residents and ask for your prayers.

Please call Fr. Ryan (847-726-4723) or Ministry of Care (847-438-6622) when a parishioner is in the hospital for visitation or to request the Sacrament of Anointing and/or Holy Communion.

Please call the parish office when someone on this list has recovered, wants to remain on the list longer than 3 weeks or has gone to their eternal rest.
