TOTAL ALLEGIANCE

In previous weeks we have seen how the theme of covenant—as a preparation for the baptismal covenant celebrated at Easter—occupies an important place in our cycle of Lenten readings. The notion of covenant as a relationship between two parties carries with it an expectation of mutual accountability and fidelity to the terms of the covenant. When God forged the covenant with the Jewish people on Mt. Sinai, it was a pledge of God's protection, and it would forever permit them familiar access as the Chosen People. For their part, the Jewish people were to observe the dictates of the law, summarized most succinctly here in the form of the Ten Commandments. To be in a covenantal relationship with the Lord God requires an exclusive relationship, just as discipleship with Jesus—ritualized in baptism—demands a total allegiance to him and none other. *copyright (c) J. This column is curated by Mary Jo Kunzmann, Judy Reilly, and Nancy Jarvis with the hope that it will help you on your journey to grow as disciples of Jesus.

In today's Gospel, Bishop Barron tells us we should not be surprised that Jesus came into the temple and made a ruckus. He was restoring the temple so as to reclaim the people of Israel. When pressed for a sign, Jesus said that he would tear the temple down and rebuild it in three days. He was talking of the Temple of his body which would be the place where divinity and humanity meet, and hence the place of right praise.

GOSPEL MEDITATION

ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Many prefer a "create as you go" approach to life where laws and protocols primarily exist to secure and protect liberties rather than dictate and outline proper and right behavior. There are no real benchmarks for acceptable ethical and moral behavior, with a "you can't tell me what to do" attitude prevailing. Parents are even limited in what they can request of their children, and dealing with threatening behaviors, especially from adults, are a challenge as well. Acceptable and expected conduct seems to amount to safeguarding each other's space rather than increasing awareness of necessary relationships that require a more refined and higher response.

We have lost our axis to the world of "anything goes" and no longer see the Ten Commandments as practical and wise guideposts to effective living. We live on "relativism island" where only a possible suggestion to "love and do not harm" may be the only standard able to be preached. While Jesus most certainly emphasized love above anything else, it was never about warm fuzzy feelings or halfhearted humanitarian efforts. The love of which Jesus spoke establishes an intimate connection with God, neighbor, self, and creation. Because this love, who is God Himself, is at the foundational core of our lives, it demands actions and attitudes that serve to build up, increase, and free up those relationships. Love requires proper conduct. Preserving and enhancing these love centered relationships is at the heart of the Ten Commandments (and the Beatitudes) and the reason for Jesus' display of anger in the temple.

The Ten Commandments can save the world from turmoil and conflict by instilling basic moral and relational principles within us. They also hold a healthy sense of sin in balance and always remind us of our relationship with God and the freedom God offers. Our faith preserves these jewels of truth that we often look beyond, dismiss altogether, or seek to remove from public view. Human beings can be so arrogant at times.

Our Lenten journey, especially when embarked upon with sincerity and resolve, can restore all of our essential relationships. When we get absorbed in life's preoccupations and demands, things can quickly get distorted and we can find ourselves way off track. In short, we find ourselves in sin. Humanity is losing a sense of both grace and sin. We need both to understand what is real and true. Until we do, the oppressive systems and ideologies that hurt so many will never change. We will never change. We are grateful for those courageous souls who willingly embrace the conversion and hard work Lent demands and stand against antiquated systems and ideologies. They give us hope that all is not lost.

Since the Passover of the Jews was near, Jesus went up to Jerusalem. He found in the temple area those who sold oxen, sheep, and doves, as well as the money changers seated there. He made a whip out of cords and drove them all out of the temple area. - Jn 2:13b-15a

PARENTS JUST DON'T UNDERSTAND

Anybody remember the old rap song by the Fresh Prince, aka Will Smith, "Parents Just Don't Understand?" As we grow up, it is sometimes a struggle for us to imagine that our parents understand us. It can seem impossible that Mom and Dad remember the stress of exam week or peer pressure. We never saw them as children; we never saw their disappointed faces when they weren't invited to a party, or their dashed hopes at a bad test grade. We never saw them homesick their first week of college or nervous to ask their crush to Homecoming.

We're often the same way about God. We gripe about what He asks of us. "He doesn't understand sin — he's all-good," we think. "He doesn't understand temptation — He is perfect."

In Scripture, God can be very much a father, telling us what we can and cannot do. And yet, in His divine genius, He is sometimes simply a man at a well, asking for a drink.

For me, it turns out I didn't need to tell my parents anything about what I was going through as a kid — they knew already. What I needed was for them to tell me what to do, and how to do it.

Similarly, we don't need to tell God about human nature. We need God to tell us about His nature. He's good enough to ask us for a drink, to enter into our humanity. But we have to remember, for our own sakes, to have the humility to ask Him for something, too — the water that will quench our eternal thirst.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN PRIESTS AND BROTHERS, FRIARS, ETC.?

The distinctions titles and categories used for priests and the male members of religious communities can be confusing, especially since the categories can sometimes be intertwined as a man can be both a priest and a monk, or a brother and a friar. So, to help to piece the puzzle together, it's important to begin by noting some basic distinctions:

The distinction between priests (who are ordained for sacramental ministry) and brothers (who are non-ordained members of religious communities and who are committed to lives of prayer and service).

Priests: A priest is a man who has been ordained for sacramental ministry and these fall into two categories: A) Diocesan (or Secular) Priests can either be attached to a diocese and who serve under a bishop. Their ministry is usually oriented toward pastoral service. B) Religious Priests are members of religious communities (like the Franciscans, Jesuits, Salvatorians, or Carmelites) and their lives are guided by the special mission and charism of their community. While both kinds of priest practice sacramental ministry, their spirituality and how they live out their priesthood can be very different.

Brothers: Brothers are non-ordained members of religious communities (such as those mentioned above) who live lives committed to prayer and service. Religious priests and brothers serve together in their communities and their ministries include much more than the care of parishes.

Monks, Friars, and Canons: These are broad categories that include religious priests and brothers, and each of these is connected to specific ways of life and spiritualities.

Deacon's Corner

About five years ago, a good friend sent me an email that was titled; "The last wishes of Alexander the Great". (thanks Pete). I read it a number of times since receiving it and feel it is worthy of sharing again as we go on with our lives. I will paraphrase it a bit but will still get the point across. So here we go!

On his deathbed, Alexander the Great summoned his army generals and told them his three ultimate wishes:

The best doctors should carry his coffin...

The wealth he has accumulated (money, gold, precious stones) should be scattered along the procession to the cemetery...

His hands should be let loose, so they hang outside the coffin for all to see!

One of his generals who was surprised by these unusual requests asked Alexander to explain. Here is what Alexander the Great had to say:

"I want the best doctors to carry my coffin to show that in the face of death, even the best doctors in the world have no power to heal"

"I want the road covered with my treasure so everyone sees that material wealth acquired while on earth, will stay on earth"

"I want my hands to swing in the wind, so that people understand that we come into this world empty handed and we leave this world empty handed after the most precious treasure of all is exhausted and that is TIME"

How true the above statements are! So many times we hear the expression; "you can't take it with you" obviously referring to the material wealth we have accumulated while here on earth. And thinking about this, it doesn't mean you have to be rich with "money, gold, precious stones" as Alexander referred to, for the wealth we accumulate is so much more than the material accumulation here on earth. A long life on earth means we have good health. A good and lasting relationship with family and friends means we have many blessings. And yet, while we work very hard, at least I am sure most of us do, to accomplish these parts of our lives, we should understand that TIME is our most precious treasure. You might ask; "Deacon John, why is time our most precious treasure?" Mainly because our TIME is limited, not by our own hand, but by the Will of God. We have no way of knowing how much TIME we have left before our journey on earth is completed. If we did, perhaps we would live our lives a bit differently? I know I would, how about you?

You see, we can always produce more of everything that we deem important in our lives with the exception of one thing, we cannot produce more TIME. When we give someone our TIME, we actually give them a portion of our life that we will never get back. OUR TIME IS OUR LIFE!

So the next time you get angry with someone or have a disagreement over something that is trivial or walk away from a discussion leaving it unresolved, take a step back and consider that the TIME you spend in those moments will never be replaced. Too often, as I know I do, we take TIME for granted. I remember Pope Francis said when he married twenty couples at the Vatican some time ago, "don't ever go to bed angry at your spouse". How true this is and it is great message to carry out through our entire lives relating to every relationship we have, not just our spouse.

I am working diligently to change my own life to understand that the best present I can give to my family and friends is my TIME. And I pray for all of us that God, our Father, will give us plenty of TIME to share with all.

My Blessings to all,

Deacon John

"I want my hands to swing in the wind, so that people understand that we come into this world empty handed and we leave this world empty handed after the most precious treasure of all is exhausted and that is time."

a Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host, by the divine power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen

† Please Pray for the Sick †

As members of our parish faith community, we remember those who are ill, who are homebound, and all nursing home residents and ask for your prayers. Please call the Parish Office - Ministry of Care, (847)438-6622, when a parishioner is in the hospital for visitation or to request the Sacrament of Anointing and/or Holy Communion. Please call the parish office when someone on this list has recovered, wants to remain on the list longer than 3 weeks or has gone to their eternal rest.
