THIS IS THE HOLY SPIRIT

Today we celebrate the Holy Trinity, one of the most confounding mysteries of our faith. Through this mystery we experience our relationship to God: Creator, Savior, and Holy Spirit. This relationship is not easy to understand or to describe. It does not become clearer through analysis. Its complexity mirrors the complexity of all our relationships. We understand our relationships with our spouses, our children, our parents, and our friends only through daily give-and-take, annual rituals, and the life-changing moments we share. We understand our relationships only as we live them. The relationships we have with those we love, and who love us, sustain us through an uncertain and difficult life. This is the Holy Trinity.

What is striking about today's readings is that each is incomplete. What they do offer is a description of a moment in our relationship, a memory of a time and an event when our relationship made sense even though that sense may be beyond our ability to describe fully. Often that is all that our faith offers, that is, a memory of what is possible, what is promised, what has been given. A memory of eternity, of love beyond understanding is to be cherished and nurtured even if not fully understood. This is the Holy Trinity.

This column is written by Mary Jo Kunzmann, Judy Reilly, and Nancy Jarvis with the hope that it will help you on your journey to grow as disciples of Jesus.

You want to be a disciple.

You try to climb the mountain of holiness: do good things, pray, do all you can to be a good disciple. But your striving isn't producing the results you want. Why? You can't earn God's love. When you realize you can't "do it" alone, that you still sin, that's when you meet God – in your humility. He meets you in all your messiness and loves you just as you are. If you humbly meet Him in the "low, fertile valley", he will take you to the mountaintop.

"Apart from me, you can do nothing." Jn. 15:5

Emmaus House of Hospitality in its 19th Year of Ministry

by Brian Pozzi

For the past few years, we at Emmaus House had the privilege of providing a mass announcement about our ministry. We are blessed to have the opportunity to do so again.

If you are new to the parish, or simply need a refresher, allow me to provide a brief description of what we do for the least of our brothers and sisters.

Each Sunday night, with a few exceptions, right below us in Father Valker Hall we provide a community dinner and perishable food pantry for those who face difficulties with feeding themselves and their families. The dinners themselves are generously provided by various groups looking for outreach opportunities such as: St Francis ministries, parish groups, civic groups, businesses, area churches and school organizations.

We hand out dairy, meat, bread and produce to our guests in the harvest room following dinner. This bounty is designed to help our guests make it through the week more comfortably until our dinner the following week. The food is donated by our generous retail partners in the area, such as Costco, Jewel, Mariano's, Trader Joe's just to name a few. Our volunteers go out to each of these establishments each week to rescue this food that we provide in the harvest room.

In addition to Sunday dinner and food pantry Emmaus House also sponsors other important programs for our guests including: Jeepers Sneakers, which provides back to school shoes for children, Undie Sunday which distributes new underwear and socks for school age children.

Emmaus does other important work in our community. For example, in the past year, we have provided funding to pay rents, mortgages and utilities for people in danger of losing their homes or apartments. This critical funding provides people with much needed time to get back on their feet financially and to stay in their residencies. These are just a few of the examples of the great things that the Emmaus House does each week.

As always, thank you to all who have volunteered or supported Emmaus House in any way by giving of your time, talents, resources and prayers. We could not do this without everyone's help and we should be proud of this as parishioners in the Lord's work.

Each year, we asked for additional support for our mission and the Lord answered our prayers. It is important to note that we are an entirely volunteer-led ministry. We have no employees of any kind. All of our Board Members and volunteers carve out time from their other family and professional responsibilities to contribute to this ministry. Each year following mass announcements we are invigorated by new members of Emmaus House who work at our dinners, or rescue food, or serve on our Board or in some amazing cases, do all of the above. We are so grateful for the extra sets of hands, hearts and minds. It is truly a blessing.

We pray that this year will be no different as we are still in need of new volunteers. The good news is we have a great program set up by our founders. It's our job to continue what they have put in place. You can help as little as you want or as much as you want. A much needed opportunity is to be Emmaus representative/coordinator for Rock the Block – for a third year Emmaus House will be the recipient of raffle proceeds that we will use to help us fund our important community projects. There are many more short or long term projects. The message is simply this. If you feel that you want to lend a hand, we will find a way for you to help as little or as much as you would like and fits your desires.

If you would like to learn more about Emmaus House and how you could help, I invite you to go to our website through the parish website, or give us a call. We are listed in the bulletin each week and the parish e-newsletter.

Finally, we cannot say it enough, on behalf of the entire Emmaus House, "Thank you Father Ryan for your support of our ministry". We could not continue to function without your blessing. For the past several years Emmaus House has been the recipient of the raffle proceeds for Rock the Block. We would not be fortunate enough to have that benefit without the partnership and support of Father Ryan. This is just one example, among countless other times, that Father Ryan looks out for opportunities to further the Emmaus House ministry.

Thank you again Father Ryan and thank you all for your support and for listening to our request for further help.

In memory of Cecilia Solecki, longtime tireless volunteer for Emmaus House and other parish ministries.

Parish and School Audits

The due date for parish audits and school student training was May 1. Any parish or schools that submitted the survey by Friday, May 3 will be considered on time. 160 parishes made the deadline! Thank you for your hard work. OPCY has received many questions about how to submit the Annual Survey. The process is the same as last year. All parishes and schools received a link to an online survey. Click that link and you will be taken to the Survey. The Survey is fill in the blanks with the information requested. When finished, reports from IOI, Virtus and eApps need to be uploaded. After that, click the submit button and you are finished.

Compliance

Compliance is a year-round effort. It begins with the new school year and continues until everyone is in complete compliance. New hires have 60 days. Parishes and schools that look at compliance only during the audit period will have more work to do in a shorter amount of time. Because of the number of calls OPCY receives, questions may not get answered as soon as they are asked. Know that Mayra, Mari, Judy and Daphne are doing their best to reply quickly to all messages.

A Compliance Officer has not yet been hired. (Maybe because you haven't applied?) Because of this, our response time has slowed down. Calls will be returned as soon as possible but know that the volume increases this time of the year.

Healing Garden Prayer Service

Friday, May 3 was the 8th annual Healing Garden Prayer Service. As a conclusion to Child Abuse Prevention month activities, adults, students and clergy joined to share a single message that the archdiocese continues to work hard to ensure safe environments for students.

Mandated Reporter Training

Archdiocesan policy requires school employees and some volunteers to take the Mandated Reporter Training. Included in that requirement are catechists, scout leaders, and SPRED volunteers. You can readily see the categories of volunteers required to take the training are those adults who are with children on a regular basis and in key positions of trust.

SPRED volunteers work with some of our most vulnerable parishioners. Even though SPRED clients are over the age of 21, they are vulnerable adults who will benefit from being around knowledgeable adults who are committed to protecting them.

Taking the Mandated Reporter training (MRT) does not make you a Mandated Reporter in the eyes of the state. Only the State Legislature can do that. Taking the MRT course makes one knowledgeable. We all mourn the life and death of AJ Freund. Would one more hotline call have made a difference? Is there a child in our parishes who might be enduring that level of abuse? AJ's life and death were tragic. What we can do now is to make sure no child or vulnerable adult under our care, suffers in that way.

As parish audits are submitted we notice a pattern. DRE's have made the decision not to require the training of their catechists. This is unacceptable. No one working or volunteering in the archdiocese has the authority to override a policy or a compliance requirement. OPCY has spoken with several pastors about this, assuring them that all catechists are to take the training. Parishes that do not have catechists take the training are found non-compliant. If there are any questions, do not hesitate to contact OPCY at 312-534-5254.

What can my parish do?

Since the news of Cardinal McCarrick last summer, Catholics have expressed their anger in listening sessions throughout the archdiocese. Anger is an understandable reaction to clergy sexual abuse in the church. Everyone wants to do something to stop abuse from happening in the Church. Most people attending the listening sessions are surprised to learn how much the archdiocese has been doing since 1992.

All clergy, employees and volunteers who work with children have a list of activities that must be completed within 60 days. The list includes mandatory training on how sexual abuse happens in institutions and the warning signs of offenders. All undergo a variety of background checks from fingerprints to DCFS reports. Parishioners are also taught how to report suspicious behavior. Parishes and schools are audited every year to ensure they are following protocols and our children are around safe adults. These are important steps in keeping our children safe, but often they are not connected to child protection. If your parish wants to do more, here are a few suggestions. Create a task force to organize special events in the parish:

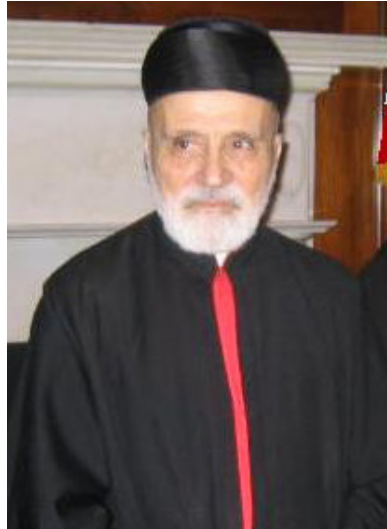

- Participate in Child Abuse Prevention Month – April
- Plan a Pinwheel planting after a mass in April
- Send the school children to the Healing Garden prayer service
- Have a Hope and Healing mass in your parish

FROM WIKIPEDIA, THE FREE ENCYCLOPEDIA

Nasrallah Boutros Sfeir

PETER CARDINAL SFIRE IS COUSIN TO OUR DEACON JOHN SFIRE

Nasrallah Boutros Sfeir (Al-Kārdīnāl Mār Naṣrallah Buṭrus Şufayr; Arabic: سرطب هلالا رصن رام لانڤدراكلا; Latin: Victor Petrus Sfeir; 15 May 1920 – 12 May 2019) was the patriarch of Lebanon's largest Christian body, the Maronite Church, an Eastern Catholic Church in communion with the Holy See. He was also a cardinal. He was elected Patriarch of Antioch for the Maronites on 27 April 1986, and his resignation was accepted on 26 February 2011. He was the third Maronite cardinal and the 76th patriarch of the Maronite Church, with the official title of "His Beatitude and Eminence the 76th Patriarch of Antioch and the Whole Levant".

ROLE DURING THE CIVIL WAR

Serving as the Vicar for two previous patriarchs prepared Sfeir for the role in both the ecclesiastical and civil spheres. He became a strong voice for reason and sanity in the latter years of the Lebanese Civil War, which raged from 1975 to 1990. He often spoke out against social and political injustices, and for the poor and disenfranchised. His writings and sermons set out his vision of how Lebanon could achieve a free and prosperous future. Like his predecessor, Sfeir largely stayed out of politics during the first few years of his tenure as patriarch, generally deferring to the stance of the Lebanese President, but by 1989, he had become embroiled in national politics.

EARLY LIFE AND ORDINATION

Nasrallah Sfeir was born in Rayfoun, Lebanon, on 15 May 1920. He was educated in Beirut, and at Mar Abda School in Harharaya where he completed his primary and complementary studies, and Ghazir where he completed his secondary studies at St. Maron seminary. He graduated in philosophy and theology in 1950 at Saint Joseph's University in Beirut. He was ordained to the priesthood in the same year on 7 May. From 1951 to 1955 he served as priest to the parish of Rayfoun. In 1956, he was appointed the secretary of the Maronite Patriarchate, based in Bkerké. In the same year, he became the professor of translation in literature and philosophy at the Frères Maristes (Marist Brothers) School in Jounieh. On 23 June 1961 Sfeir was appointed Titular bishop and Patriarchal vicar. On 16 July 1961, he was consecrated the titular bishop of Tarsus by Patriarch Paul Peter Meouchi and had as his co-consecrators João Chedid, Titular bishop of Arca in Phoenicia dei Maroniti and Michael Doumith, Eparch of Sarba. Consequently, Sfeir served as Patriarchal vicar.

PATRIARCH

He was elected to the primacy of the Maronite Church by the Council of Maronite Bishops, on 19 April 1986, and he was confirmed by Pope John Paul II on 7 May 1986.

LITURGY

Sfeir was keen on accelerating liturgical reforms. This work bore fruit in 1992 with the publication of a new Maronite Missal, which represents an attempt to return to the original form of the Antiochene Liturgy. Its Service of the Word has been described as far more enriched than previous Missals, and it features six Anaphoras (Eucharistic Prayers).

RESIGNATION

Cardinal Sfeir submitted his resignation to the Congregation for the Oriental Churches in Rome in late 2010, but his resignation was not initially accepted because six Maronite bishops have submitted their resignations after reaching the retirement age of 75 in June 2010 His resignation was finally accepted by Pope Benedict XVI on 26 February 2011.

Cardinal Sfeir was succeeded by Bishop Bechara Boutros Rahi who was elected as the new Patriarch for Antioch on 15 March 2011.

CARDINAL

Sfeir was made a cardinal by Pope John Paul II in the consistory of 26 November 1994. As the patriarch of a sui juris particular church who has been made a cardinal, Sfeir was a cardinal bishop. He did not participate in the conclaves of 2005 and 2013, having already reached the age limit of 80.

WORKS

Sfeir wrote several books, including "The sources of the Gospel-Bkerké", (1975); "Personalities that disappeared 1961–1974" – (two volumes); and "Sunday sermons: spiritual reflections and stand of national positions", (several volumes, 1988).

Sfeir was fluent in many languages: Syriac, French, Italian, Aramaic and Latin, as well as his native Arabic, being proficient in both classical and Lebanese dialects.

INVOLVEMENT IN POLITICS

Spring of 1989

The cardinal found himself both within the Syrian camp and outside it. At the beginning of the 1990s he did not support Syria's role against General Michel Aoun. In the spring of 1989, when Aoun launched a campaign to achieve control of militia-dominated areas, 23 Christian deputies of parliament met at the seat of the Maronite Church in Bkerké, under the auspices of Sfeir, and called for a cease-fire. While hundreds of thousands Lebanese (Christians and non-Christians) gathered in the Baadba presidential palace in support for Aoun, a couple of thousands of Christians demonstrated in Bkerki against Aoun. Under what some say was pressure from the Vatican, he backed the Taif Agreement and hence the Syrian mandate over Lebanon in order to end the civil war, saying that it would be “a fatal error to believe that we can live alone on an island in which we run our affairs as we like.” A few days later, he declared that Aoun’s nonacceptance of the Taif Agreement was illegal and unconstitutional. On 5 November, as parliamentary deputies met at the abandoned Qoleiat air base in Syrian-controlled North Lebanon to elect a new president, Sfeir warned in a sermon that Aoun’s stand “would lead to partitioning of the country.”

OPPOSITION WITHIN THE CHURCH

The patriarch’s authority was challenged even within the Church itself, as several monastic orders issued proclamations supporting Aoun and denouncing the Taif Agreement. To bolster the patriarch’s authority, the Vatican became directly involved in reorganizing the Maronite Church. Speaking before a gathering of Lebanese bishops in November 1989, the papal nuncio in Lebanon, Pablo Puente, condemned “the interference of clerical persons and institutions in politics without being officially mandated to by the church hierarchy... an end must be put to political visits and declarations that have no clear Church mandate.” The Vatican later sought to temper nationalist views in the clergy by appointing “visiting bishops” to supervise three especially militant monastic orders. In 1990 Sfeir called for the rival government in West Beirut to take over Aoun’s “Christian enclave” in the east. “The legitimate government should spread its authority over the whole nation,” he said in one interview. “It should not wait for an invitation from anyone to do so.” Finally on October 13, 1990, the Syrian Army crushed Aoun’s insurgency and the long civil war finally came to an end. Aoun’s main objection to the Taif Agreement was that it had no firm timetable for Syrian withdrawal and that it abolished most of the Maronite president’s power giving them to the Sunni Prime Minister. The Syrians went on to occupy Lebanon for another 15 years.

CEDAR REVOLUTION

The Syrian invasion was ‘forced’ under international pressure to withdraw its forces from Lebanon, following the political upheaval and large scale street protests which followed the assassination of former Prime Minister Rafik Hariri (see Cedar Revolution); at the end of April 2005 – Sfeir was at times a vocal critic of Syrian prevarication in carrying out its pledge to withdraw, up until around 2003, falling silent again just as anti-Syrian views were becoming more widespread. His restraint in his comments at this time appeared to have lost him the support, in particular, of a majority among those Christians who had fled the country. The cardinal also urged restraint in anti-Syrian rhetoric, and for Lebanon to focus on its economic development rather than political rifts. Nevertheless, hundreds of thousands of Lebanese (mostly Christians) gathered in Bkerke and the roads leading to it on March 27, 2001, to welcome back the cardinal from a tour in the United States, during which he asked for the withdrawal of the Syrian army. He blessed in 2001 the establishment of Christian Qornet Shehwan Gathering opposed to the Syrian role and in the aftermath of the Hariri assassination he restated his opposition to Syria’s predominant role in Lebanese politics and the political changes following Syrian withdrawal appeared to have largely restored his previous position as the main spokesperson for his community.

REACTION TO POLITICAL PARALYSIS

In the first half of 2006 the cardinal was critical of the political paralysis created by the controversy over whether President Émile Lahoud should serve the remainder of his term of office (which was specially extended under Syrian pressure in 2004 until November 2007). At the same time, he stressed that Lahoud should be removed only by lawful and constitutional means and that the continued smooth functioning of government and a national consensus on his successor were the main priorities. In order to discuss the July 2006 Israel-Lebanon war and American policy on the affair, he met with Vice President Dick Cheney at the White House, and later talked with Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice.

RELATIONS WITH THE FREE PATRIOTIC MOVEMENT

On 15 October 2006, the Christian Free Patriotic Movement (FPM) held gatherings in which anti-patriarchal slogans were raised, denouncing Cardinal Sfeir’s political stands, which they consider contradictory to the will of the FPM Christians in Lebanon. The FPM bloc, led by retired general and current president Michel Aoun, constitutes the largest Christian bloc in the Lebanese parliament. Relations between the cardinal and The FPM and Hezbollah further deteriorated when the patriarch made an eleventh hour appeal directly before the 2009 elections renouncing Hezbollah and the FPM and warning Christians against voting for them. A stance which many believe to have severely cut Christian support to March 8 Alliance, especially when Aoun emerged as the biggest loser in the 2009 elections according to some estimates. The FPM blame the cardinal for making them lose 20% of Christian support using religious rhetoric, and for not objecting against the transfer of 15,000 Sunni voters from Beqaa villages to the Christian district of Zahle which lost the FPM 8 MP’s there. Currently the FPM and its allies have one out of twelve orthodox seats, two out of eight catholic seats, two out of six Armenian seats and almost half of Maronite seats with the rest belonging to 14 March yet FPM still retains the biggest Christian single parliamentary block of 27 MPs, which includes MPs from other parties such as the Marada Movement as well as independent pro-Syrian government personalities. Also not all of the Change and Reform bloc MPs are Christians.

DEATH

Nasrallah Boutros Sfeir died on 12 May 2019 in the hospital of Hôtel-Dieu de France, Achrafieh district, Beirut, three days before his 99th birthday and was buried at the see of the Maronite Catholic Patriarchate in Bkerké, Lebanon.

Deacon's Corner

It is 4:15AM and I am going through the news available online before I begin my day. And it seems to me that there is one glaring point that stands out in many of the stories. But before I go on, I want to be clear that while I used the word "news", I strongly feel that the media tends, more often than not, to distort the facts surrounding most of the stories they report. Negativity and violence seem to be the overriding topic that is put in front of us no matter what the real story might be.

That glaring point I was referring to above is the "lack of respect" that our society seems to have adopted in lieu of following the guidelines of Our Lord to "love you neighbor as yourself". And sometimes I come to the conclusion that maybe most people just don't like themselves anymore so they live in the state of anger and disdain toward themselves as well as others.

I know for myself, I have tried to live my life to the best of my ability showing "respect" to all those around me. Not because someone might be in a higher position in the corporate world, not because someone has more money, not because of where someone lives, but because we are all children of God no matter what our station in life is at any given time.

I have raised our children with the help of my wife in hopes of them becoming young adults at the age of 18 to have R & R. That is Respect and Responsibility. And from what I have been able to ascertain, I couldn't be more proud of our children to have followed that idea. More importantly, they have used this same concept in raising their children with the same directive, i.e. R & R.

Sadly, it becomes more and more evident that the society that we live in today seems to be wandering further and further away from the idea of "respect". And I believe that the "lack of respect" in society is not something new. It dates back thousands of years but in the world we now live in, with everything we do or say publicized "for the world to see", this apparent "lack of respect" that surrounds us constantly is put in our face every day. So what is the answer? How do we overcome the constant barrage of "disrespect" that we see daily?

I am not sure what might work for you, but for me, trying to stay immersed in the Word of God, reading the Bible more often, devoting each day as a prayer to Our Lord are some of the ways that help keep me "on track" with Our Lord. Remember, we don't have to be in Church to be prayerful. Speaking with Our Lord is not limited to being in Church. As a matter of fact, I believe that quite the opposite is very appropriate. So stay "in touch" with Our Lord each day, each hour, each minute. And this can be most easily accomplished by keeping thoughts of Our Lord at the forefront of our mind. Don't let the distractions of society that surround us take over our thought process.

In keeping Our Lord at the forefront of our mind, we will always show the "respect" both to Our Lord and equally as important, to those around us. Whether it be family, co-workers, and even strangers on the street, keep Our Lord ever-present in our thoughts, our mind and in our deeds and I promise you that your life will become easier, more productive, more comfortable and, most importantly, attached to Our Lord at all times. After all, who deserves more "respect" than Our Lord? Who should we be thanking every day of our lives? Of course, the answer is Jesus Christ who sacrificed His life for ours so that we can obtain eternal salvation. But remember as Fr. Ryan says so often, our salvation is not automatic, we must work for it while here on earth and we can best do that by living a "respectful" life.

My blessings to all,

Deacon John

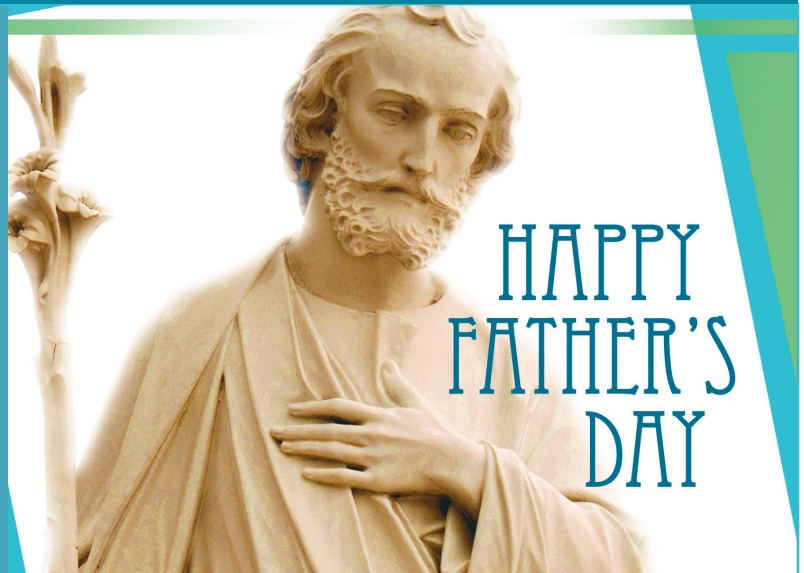

A Prayer for You

God our Father, You govern and protect Your people and shepherd them with a Father's Love. You place a father in a family as a sign of Your love, care, and constant protection.

May fathers everywhere be faithful to the example shown in the scriptures; steadfast in love, forgiving transgressions, sustaining the family, caring for those in need.

Give Your wisdom to fathers so that they may encourage and guide their children and keep them healthy so they may support a family.

Guide every father, with the Spirit of Your love, that they make grow in holiness and draw their family ever closer to you. Amen

A note from the PTO

We have had another amazing year and none of it could have been possible without our students, parents and volunteers. THANK YOU to all of you for making this year one of the best!

Our two largest fundraisers, Spirit Day and Bingo Night, have proven to become bigger and better with each passing year. They did not disappoint once again.

Box Tops, Lux Wearhouse, Used Uniform, Dining for Dollars, Barnes & Noble Book Fair and Amazon Smile continue to be just as impactful in helping our school achieve our goals.

From our proceeds this year, the PTO has provided our school with new Science Lab chairs and Technology updates. We will continue to raise money for the STEM Lab Development and Extra-Curricular Program Expansion. We have also funded Teacher Driven Innovations for the classrooms. To name a few of these requests, teachers have been provided with the following for the classrooms: Computer apps for presentations, STEM materials for various grade levels, chess sets, a chick incubator, hands on manipulatives for math and reading, dash robots for coding, neuroscience units and computer science simulation programs

With our funds we are also able to host FREE events and offer in school/ classroom experiences such as the Cultural Arts Program, Roller Skating Party, Career Day in the Back to School Splash Bash.

We have welcomed to new faces to our PTO meetings and have increased our volunteer participation. As we look to the new school year we are welcoming new PTO Board members and more volunteers. Please consider volunteering your time and talent to our group by submitting year 2-Hour pledge. We have openings that will fit all schedules. Join us at one of our PTO meetings to learn more about the school and what we do.

With the school year coming to an end, the PTO continues to plan through the summer. When we head back to school, please join us at the Back to School Splash Bash on August 4th. This is a FREE event for all SFS families.

On August 13th we will be hosting Back to School Night. We will have various local vendor tables and visiting high schools. Girl and Boy Scouts, Spirit Wear, Used Uniforms, School Supply Packets, Dining for Dollar partners and much more!

"Faith opens the door and helps our Eagles soar"

We wish you and your family a happy and safe summer

Dear St. Francis de Sales Parishioners/K of C Fish Fry Guests,
Thank you so much for your support this year of the Knights of Columbus Fish Fry! Because of you, the Knights of Columbus, Local Council 3954, is able to contribute more money directly to charity. And what a year we had!

2019 was the single largest, most successful year ever for the K of C Fish Fry in profit and attendance. Over the course of the 6 Fridays in Lent (save Good Friday), K of C served 2,199 guests (1,755 served in 2018), served over 1,150lbs. of fish, and brought in a total profit of $14,085.71 ($10,967.00 in 2018)! We also had over 75 volunteers across the 6 nights putting in at least 3 hours per shift. The response is always amazing.

Now, as I always point out, 100% of K of C profit goes directly to charity. But which charities and how much? This year, we have selected 3 charities to receive donations. 60% of the profit, or $8,451.43, will be donated to Mt. St. Joseph's, an intermediate care facility for handicapped women, right here in Lake Zurich. Mt. St. Joseph's, being so local, is always near to our hearts. 30%, or $4,225.71, will be donated to Special Religious Development, or SPRED, a charitable facility which assists persons with developmental disabilities to become integrated into parish assemblies of Catholic worship through religious education. The remaining 10%, or $1,408.57, will be donated to The Center for Independence Through Conductive Education, a charitable facility helping those children and adults with physical disabilities gain independence.

Thank you for your continuing support of the K of C mission to assist those with intellectual disabilities. You have made my 2 year term as Grand Knight very memorable and successful in giving back to our community, and we hope to see you all next year! God Bless.

CONFRONTING HATE:
 CHOOSING LOVE IN A
 DIVIDED WORLD

Thursday, June 20
 6:30 – 9 p.m.

Salvage One
 1840 West Hubbard Street
 Chicago, IL 60622

Come hear Immaculee Ilibagiza, a survivor of the Rwandan Genocide, speak about how she forgave the man who killed her family. Immaculee will demonstrate how radical love in the midst of hate can impact our polarized culture – where differing opinions are met with hate and the “other side” of an argument is automatically wrong – and bring charity and forgiveness into the world around us.

Join the Young Adult Engagement Team of the Archdiocese of Chicago for heavy hors d'oeuvres and beverages. Tickets cost $5 and individuals between the ages of 18-39 are welcome. Immaculee's books will be available for purchase and signing at the event. For more information and to register, please visit pvm.archchicago.org/events/confronting-hate.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

The Little Sisters of the Poor are seeking adult volunteers in many areas throughout the day Monday through Saturday. We are looking for a volunteer licensed beautician who is willing to come a half day once a week. Our beauty shop could always use volunteers that are not licensed, but enjoy doing hair. Help is needed with manicures on Friday mornings. When the weather is good, volunteers are welcome to help with our grounds, and sit outside with Residents in the late afternoons. St. Joseph's Home is also looking for a volunteer dressmaker. If you are inclined to make a weekly commitment to volunteering, please contact Cindy DeLuca for requirements and more information, or stop in and fill out an application. TEENS: St. Joseph's Home accepts students from 8th grade through college as temporary volunteers, usually for service hours. Students are able to assist with outdoor grounds work or help in activities. To contact Cindy DeLuca, please call 847-358-5700 or email her at: volpalatine@littlesistersofthepoor.org.

The Importance of Eucharistic Adoration

Pope Francis leads Benediction outside the Basilica of St. Mary Major at the conclusion of the Corpus Christi procession in Rome May 30. (CNS photo/Paul Haring)The importance of Eucharistic Adoration is shown in the fact that the Church has a ritual that regulates it: the Rite of Eucharistic Exposition and Benediction. This is an extension of the adoration of the Blessed Sacrament which occurs in every Mass: "Behold the Lamb of God, behold him who takes away the sins of the world. Blessed are those called to the supper of the Lamb." Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament flows from the sacrifice of the Mass and serves to deepen our hunger for Communion with Christ and the rest of the Church. The Rite concludes with the ordained minister blessing the faithful with the Blessed Sacrament. - taken from the USCCB website
