EXPECTING THE UNEXPECTED

If it ever crossed your mind that Jesus was somewhat lacking in a sense of humor, today's Gospel should belie any such notion. Jesus' story of the five wise and five foolish bridesmaids is downright hilarious. The circumstances of the story were surely familiar to Jesus' listeners, just as they are—if we think about it—to us. Weddings never, ever start on time. There's always a delay. Buttons pop off at the last minute. Flowers wilt. Cars full of wedding guests get caught in traffic. Soloists contract laryngitis. Brides or grooms or priests show up late! So the only reasonable way to approach a wedding is with a sense of humor, to realize that something probably will go awry, and, when that happens, to smile about it.

Jesus tells this funny story to encourage us to be watchful, yes; to be ready, yes. But he doesn't tell it to make us dour and somber. The heavy-hearted tremble, waver, lose sight of their place and purpose, and fall asleep. The lighthearted know that the unexpected will happen—is bound to happen—so they are awake in their place and ready in their purpose when it comes. Copyright (c) J. S. Paluch Co., Inc.

GOSPEL MEDITATION

ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

When doing student report cards, there was a comment the teacher could choose that read: inattentive and easily distracted. Could that comment describe your spiritual life? We can become so consumed with myriad distractions and preoccupations and lose our connection to what is really significant and important. We can become dull. This happens in our human relationships, too. We can easily take the love of others for granted, whether it be a parent, spouse, friend, or a child. We assume and presume that their love will always be there and do very little to cultivate, rejuvenate, and deepen it. Presumption can become a great sin.

We do the same thing with God and our spiritual lives. We presume that God will be merciful. Because we believe that in the end God is going to forgive us anyway, then why put a lot of effort into things now? What's the point? It's far easier to find a comfortable spot, curl up and take a nap! There is no immediate urgency to staying awake and attentive, so we think, and we simply fly by the seat of our pants.

Assuming and presuming too much about our relationships, especially our relationship with God, can lead to neglect and abuse. It can even lead to a sense of entitlement, where we actually believe that something is due us without much effort on our part.

Folks who are distracted and preoccupied can find their relationships, especially the primary ones, drifting away. You can actually be married to someone for many years and wake up one morning realizing that you really do not know them or truly recognize them.

We have to desire God in order to recognize God. We have to open our hearts, minds, and souls to His Presence so that we can be rejuvenated and refreshed. But we cannot do this if we are distracted or napping. We have to be awake and alert! As a young child eagerly watches for and anticipates that arrival of their parent home, so too we must watch for God's presence. If the anticipation of God's arrival does not excite us and rouse us, then we need to ask why. The wise person keeps vigilant watch, knowing that in the end they will not be disappointed.

"Then all those virgins got up and trimmed their lamps. The foolish ones said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' But the wise ones replied, 'No, for there may not be enough for us and you. Go instead to the merchants and buy some for yourselves.'" - Mt 25:7-9

IN OUR MIDST

One day my son came downstairs in our house and went into the kitchen to get himself a bowl of cereal. He had no idea I was in the front room quietly reading something on my smartphone. He poured his milk and reached to grab a spoon. At that moment, I simply said, "Hello." Startled, he jumped back from the silverware drawer and let out a scream. He would tell this story differently, but it certainly was a scream. He clutched his chest as if he had just seen a ghost. All I wanted to do was say hello.

We have all been startled by someone when we thought we were all alone. Sometimes that person in our midst was simply quiet and hidden from our view. Other times, we simply have our head and mind in the clouds to the point we are ignoring the fact we are not alone.

At times that person we don't see is Jesus. He might seem quieter some days, but he should never be hidden from our view. He is always there with us, in others, and sharing our everyday moments. When we fail to see him in our midst, it is easy to act in ways we wouldn't if we saw him directly in front of us. We become less giving and more self-centered. No one wants to be surprised one day when suddenly they realize they were not alone, especially if the one who startles us is our God.

WHAT DOES THE CHURCH SAY ABOUT SUICIDE?

Unfortunately, despite the Church's clear teachings in resources like the Catechism of the Catholic Church and the United States Catholic Catechism for Adults, there are still many people who are confused about what the Church teaches regarding the tragic reality of suicide.

While we hold that all life is sacred, we are also all-too-aware that psychological, emotional and even physical illness — as well as extreme anxiety, fear, and abuse — can lead individuals to take their own lives. Speaking to this, the United States Catholic Catechism for Adults reflects, "Although suicide is always objectively sinful, one should not despair of the eternal salvation of persons who have taken their own lives. By ways known to him alone, God can provide the opportunity for salutary repentance. The Church prays for persons who have taken their own lives" (pg. 294). The text also states the reality of illness or other extreme influences can "diminish the responsibility of one committing suicide" (pg. 293).

Parishes and grief support groups should show special care and concern for those families that have lost a loved one to suicide. And, communities should always try to be mindful of those who might be at risk of suicide or self-harm.

If someone is contemplating suicide, please know that help is available, including the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline (1-800-273-8255).

Gift of Love and Our Lady of Tepeyac
 GIVING GUIDELINES - 2020

Due to the ongoing pandemic we will need to modify our Christmas giving programs for this year. With the Ministry Center closed for the foreseeable future we will not be able to collect and distribute gifts to our recipient families in the traditional manner.

As you can imagine, our programs have even greater need this year due to many of our families having their employment and wages compromised as a result of Covid-19. Our alternate plan is to provide only gift cards to our families and organizations that we support.

Beginning the week of October 25, 2020 through December 1, 2020 we will be collecting gift cards or money earmarked for the Gift of Love program. Donations can be:

- Mailed to St. Francis, 135 S. Buesching Road, Lake Zurich 60047
- Dropped off at church during the hours of 11:30am - 3:00pm, daily

- Dropped off in a dedicated box in church during the weekend masses
- Through the online giving program:
<https://giving.parishsoft.com/app/giving/stfrancislz>

If you donate gift cards please make the cards in increments of $25 or $50 and only for Walmart, Target or Jewel.

We have an incredibly generous parish and the families and organizations that we serve are so appreciative of all the help that we are able to provide them. I hope that you will continue to support these programs as you have so generously in the past.

In these challenging times counting our blessings has never been more necessary and helping our fellow neighbors has never been more important.

Please call either Jane Clery, 847 370-8933 or Patricia Linares, 847 323-7485 with any questions.

This is where you can drop the gift cards off at in the church

Thank you, Thank you, Thank you for 500 pairs of Jeans!

Thank you to all of our wonderful parishioners who donated mostly new jeans and some slightly used jeans that were washed and cleaned.

500 jeans were donated in the two and a half weeks of the Jean Drive in October. 200 jeans were already delivered to Saint Anastasia's Church in Waukegan by Mr. Jerry. 200 jeans will be delivered to our sharing Parish, Our Lady of Tepeyac in Chicago, and 100 jeans will be delivered to Holy Blessed Trinity Food Pantry in Waukegan. I will be working with Patricia Linares regarding the 200 jeans to be delivered to Our Lady of Tepeyac in Chicago.

Prayers of gratitude for the generosity of this good parish and for Mr. Jerry and Mr. Chris' good help. As always, when there is a will, there is a way to do good. Now we are getting ready for the winter coat drive in November.

God give you peace, Fr.DFR

Cardinal Cupich's commentary: Systemic racism is real, and all Americans play a role in addressing it

Arch Link <archlink@archchicago.org>

Fri 9/25/2020 4:19 PM

ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

This message is for all clergy and staff of the Archdiocese of Chicago

Shared here is a letter co-written by Cardinal Cupich and Bishop Horace E. Smith, M.D., senior pastor of Apostolic Faith Church. Published by the editorial board of the Chicago Tribune, this commentary is for all within our community to reflect and pray upon.

Systemic racism is real, and all Americans play a role in addressing it

It has been a summer of anguish for Black Americans. Six months after Breonna Taylor was shot to death by Louisville police officers in a botched drug raid, the nation is once again seized by grief, anger and despair over the spectacle of another young Black person killed by police — and no one has been indicted for her killing. After three days of deliberation, a Kentucky grand jury has charged one now-former police officer with recklessly endangering Taylor's neighbors, even though she was the one who ended up dead.

We write on behalf of a group of pastors that also includes the Rev. Ira J. Acree, senior pastor of Greater St. John Bible Church; the Rev. Chris Harris, pastor of Bright Star Church Chicago; the Rev. Marshall Hatch, senior pastor of New Mount Pilgrim Baptist Church; and the Rev. Otis Moss III, senior pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ.

As pastors who minister to Black families, brown families, Asian families and white families, we find ourselves once again faced with the horrifying question: Why does this keep happening, and what can we do about it? After we do our part to bind up the deep psychic wounds of our parishioners, neighbors, friends and family members, we are left asking, what now? Pray for peace, march for peace, work for peace — yes, peace. This is what Christians are supposed to be for, believing as we do in the Prince of Peace. And who could argue against it? In the face of wanton violence, we are called to take responsibility for building a culture of nonviolence.

But while peace may be necessary to the cause, it is insufficient, for creating a culture of peace requires something that ensures its endurance. That something is what we call justice.

Justice is a complex thing. It takes hard work. It requires systems of transparency, vigilance, fairness and accountability. It needs people who take stock of and resist systems of injustice. One of those is racism. We have heard from those who claim there is no such thing as systemic racism. We have been told that racism is something that perverts the hearts of individual women and men, and that in the absence of avowed racists — of which we still have not a small number in this country — there can be no racist system.

It can be comforting to people who have never experienced racial prejudice when they reflect on their lives and cannot identify times when they have behaved in racist ways. Look, some may say, at the strides our society has made since the era of institutionalized slavery. Yes, our Black brothers and sisters are no longer made to use different water fountains, explicitly barred from "Whites Only" shops, bought and sold as chattel — all instances of systemic injustice.

But our Christian faith demands more than an acknowledgment of gains. It requires that we make an examination of conscience, not simply of our own individual consciences, but collectively, as a nation. We are called to examine our various social and governmental systems and ask whether they are bearers of justice or its opposite.

We don't need to look back very far in Chicago's history to see one of the most notorious examples of systemic racism: contract buying, the practice of predatory home pricing and sales that undermined the ability of Black families to accrue wealth as white families could.

We cannot turn away from the church's own history, especially when it comes to mono-ethnic and mono-racial congregations. And we see other ways in which people of color are systemically disadvantaged: unemployment rates are much higher for people of color; the median wealth of white people is about 10 times what it is for Black people; quality and availability of education — by law — health care, transportation, even grocery stores are all much worse for Black Americans. These disparities are not accidental. They are the inevitable outcomes of systems designed through hostility or neglect to make it harder for Black Americans to flourish, or even to survive.

As the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops put it in its recent letter, "Open Wide Our Hearts": "Racism can only end if we contend with the policies and institutional barriers that perpetuate and preserve the inequality — economic and social — that we still see all around us."

It's that last part that may be the hardest. Because seeing injustice is but the first step on the road to justice. Taking that step means being able to put aside one's own fears and sensitivities surrounding the issue of racial injustice. It means being able to see the fears of those who may not look like us, or live near us, or be able to afford what we can afford, to see their aspirations, their desire for safe neighborhoods, good education, meaningful job opportunities. It means, in a word, cultivating empathy.

For people of faith, it means looking at one another not as competitors in a cultural contest, as if the success of one kind of person requires the failure of another. No, we are called to look upon one another as God looks upon us, as responsible for one another, as children of the Creator who fashioned us in his image, and who wants nothing more for his family than a life of lasting peace secured by abiding justice. Or, to put it another way, as Pope Paul VI did: "If you want peace, work for justice."

Ms. Sharon Fredrickson
St. Francis de Sales Jubilee Garden
135 S Buesching Road
Lake Zurich, IL 60047

Dear Ms. Fredrickson,

Pope Francis has said old-age is a "precious treasure that takes shape in the journey of every man and woman's life, whatever their origins, background, or economic or social conditions." He said, "life is a gift, and when it is long it is a privilege, for oneself and for others." He has called upon the Church to care for the elderly, going to them with "a smile on your face and the Gospel in your hands."

Little did we realize that shortly after he said those words, we would not only be caring for the elderly, but vigorously protecting them from a deadly virus. We fight every day to not only physically care for our Residents, but to bring the love, peace and hope of the Gospel to them.

Thank you for your gift of freshly grown vegetables. We are so grateful for your support, not only the financial – which we desperately need, but also for the many prayers that you offer for us. We truly feel them and they keep us going.

You can be assured of our prayers for the good health and protection of you and your family.

Sincerely,

Sr. Amy Marie, Isp

a Prayer to Saint Michael the Archangel

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host, by the divine power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen

† Please Pray for the Sick †

As members of our parish faith community, we remember those who are ill, who are homebound, and all nursing home residents and ask for your prayers. Please call Fr. Ryan, (847)726-4723, or Ministry of Care, (847)438-6622, when a parishioner is in the hospital for visitation or to request the Sacrament of Anointing and/or Holy Communion. Please call the parish office when someone on this list has recovered, wants to remain on the list longer than 3 weeks or has gone to their eternal rest.
